U. S. SNUBS WARNING

Defend-Turks Plan Pledged

Khrushchev Is Advised To Heed His Own Words On War; Soviet Block Stressed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States bluntly told Soviet Communist chief Nikita Khrushchev Thursday night that it will stand by its treaty obligations to defend Turkey.

At the same time, the Eisenhower administration re-emphasized that it is "determined to carry out the national policy" of blocking any Red aggression in the Middle East.

The government's view was set forth in a formal State Department announcement read to reporters at a news conference.

The American statement advised Khrushchev to heed his own words that a modern war once started is difficult to confine to any particular locality.

"That truth should be prayerfully and constantly contemplated by every responsible official of every country," the statement said.

Comment

The American attitude was expressed in the form of comment on an interview Khrushchev gave to a New York Times reporter in Moscow.

In this interview, Khrushchev accused Secretary of State Dulles of trying to entice Turkey into war against Syria.

Khrushchev also contended in the interview that Deputy Undersecretary of State Loy Henderson, who visited the Mideast last month, had sought to incite certain Mideast countries against Syria.

In reply, the State Department said Thursday night:

"Mr. Khrushchev, who often glibly talks of peace, in the same interview now openly threatens Turkey.

"He has referred to the fact that the United States is a long way from the Middle East, whereas the U.S.S.R. is adjacent.

"Despite distances he should be under no illusion that the United States, Turkey's friend and ally, takes lightly its obligations in the North Atlantic Treaty or is not determined to carry out the national policy expressed in the joint congressional resolution on the Middle East."

Turkey and the United States are among the 15 Western countries banded together in the Atlantic Pact and pledged to go to the assistance of any partner attacked.

The State Department reply not only rejected as "completely unfounded" Khrushchev's accusations but it stoutly defended Turkey.

Raids Charged

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Syria claimed Thursday that Turkish border patrols raided three Syrian villages in the last week and that the Turks are concentrating more troops on the 450-mile border.

The claims revived Syrian and Soviet charges that the United States backs Turkey in threats against Syrian security.

Parliament members from border villages immediately called for establishing armed volunteer resistance groups in border towns "to meet repeated Turkish provocative acts."

Syrian officials said Syrian gendarme forces drove back the last attack Wednesday after a Turkish patrol tried to raid the village of Bozan, in the Ein Elarab district, in an attempt to steal cattle.

Shahin Shahin, a border village representative in Parliament, said the Turks are concentrating their attacks in the Ein Elarab and Jarables districts, in the northeastern sector. He said he has formally demanded that the government supply villagers with enough arms to establish a defense force.

Little Moon Shrugs Off Collisions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia's baby moon—a week old Friday—whirled around the world Thursday night for the 93rd time. It showed no signs of being winded as it passed the estimated 2,595,000 mile mark.

Although Moscow Radio reported meteorite fragments were crashing against the earth satellite in outer space, it hummed along right on its predicted time schedule.

The Moscow broadcast said the satellite's real danger period will be Oct. 20-22, when it will pass through meteor debris left by the Haley Comet.

The satellite was outshone by its third-stage rocket in American skies Thursday.

Sighted

An observation team at New Haven, Conn., reported sighting the rocket, which gave the satellite the final thrust on its historic spin around the world.

Scientists credited the team with providing the first visual fix on the rocket in this country since last Friday's launching. Both the rocket and the radio-equipped globe it carried into the outer atmosphere are considered satellites as they orbit the earth.

Dr. J. Allen Hynek, director of the optical tracking crew at the Smithsonian Institution's Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., said the rocket is larger than the globe and reflects a brighter light.

In The Lead

Hynek estimated the two satellites are about 700 miles apart, with the third stage rocket in the lead because it has probably dropped to a smaller orbit.

"This is leading up to having two things to watch," he said. "They're just a few minutes apart now but we expect that distance to grow."

The National Security Council met for over two hours in Washington Thursday and evidently reviewed the U.S. missile and satellite programs.

As usual, the White House refused to give out any information on what took place at the meeting, presided over by President Eisenhower. But it was announced that in addition to the regular members of the top level planning group the following were present:

Dr. Alan T. Waterman, director of the National Science Foundation; William M. Holaday, deputy assistant secretary of defense for missiles; Dr. John P. Hagen, director of Project Vanguard, the U.S. satellite project; Dr. Detlev W. Bronk, president of the National Academy of Science; Donald Quarles, deputy secretary of defense, and Harold E. Stassen, the President's disarmament specialist.

—West Accused Of Trickery—

Soviets Ignore U. S. Proposal

America Offers Immediate Talks Toward Control Of Space Missiles

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States offered Thursday to enter immediately into multi-nation talks on control of outer space missiles. The offer was ignored by the Soviet Union, which accused the West of trickery in disarmament negotiations.

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge warned the United Nations "we must not miss this chance" to harness for peace outer space missiles "which can blow us to bits."

But Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, speaking after Lodge in the U.N.'s 82-nation Political Committee, made no specific mention of control of missiles. He declared the Western powers are "still unwilling to reach any agreement." He added:

"For that reason we call upon the governments of the United States, Britain and France to accept an honest and mutually acceptable agreement. It is time to put trickery aside and stop making a good face when the game is lost."

Gromyko made only brief reference to the intercontinental missile which the Soviet Union now claims as part of its arsenal. He called attention to the growing power of atomic and hydrogen bombs and the appearance of "intercontinental weapons, capable of reaching any objective on earth."

Toughest Speech

The Soviet Foreign Minister delivered one of his toughest U.N. speeches in recent years. He rejected the Western proposals put forth at the London talks of the U.S. subcommittee on disarmament, and stood on previous Soviet proposals which put priority on immediate and unconditional abolition of tests of nuclear weapons.

Lodge declared that outer space missiles, "like atomic energy, can serve the purpose of peace or it can be used to blow us to bits."

He recalled that the United States proposed in 1946, when it alone had nuclear weapons, that atomic energy be put under international control. He added:

"The world knows now that a decade of anxiety and trouble could have been avoided if that plan had been accepted. We now have a similar opportunity to harness for peace man's new pioneering efforts in outer space. We must not miss this chance."

Lodge added that the United States has proposed the setting up of a technical committee to work out an inspection system to assure that objects sent into outer space serve exclusively peaceful and scientific purposes.

"If there is general agreement to proceed with this study on a mililateral basis," he declared, "the United States is prepared to join in this initiative without awaiting the conclusion of negotiations on the other substantive proposals."

Lodge declared nuclear tests could be suspended immediately if there was in existence a treaty "for initial measures of disarmament."

He said that such a treaty must include the basic principles urged by the West at London—use of atomic materials for peace, reduction of conventional armaments and armed forces, control measures to safeguard against surprise attack, and control of outer space missiles.

"We would not conduct nuclear tests if we did not have to," he asserted. "Let us remove the necessity for nuclear tests and suspend the tests at the same time."

Lodge said the Soviet Union has already taken "forward steps" at the London talks, including acceptance of a limited "first stage" agreement, recognition of the value of air and ground inspection, and establishment of a monitoring system if nuclear tests are suspended.

Both Jupiter, Thor Tests Speeded Up

Plans To Reject One Of Projects Dropped By Defense Agency

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department announced Thursday that work will continue on both the Jupiter and Thor missiles, and tests of them will be speeded up.

The Jupiter is an Army project and the Thor is the Air Force's. Both are intermediate range ballistic missiles, designed to travel 1,500 miles. There had been talk earlier of dropping one or the other.

Whether Russia's success in launching the first earth satellite figured in the Jupiter-Thor decision was not mentioned. The Russians used a rocket of tremendous power to thrust the satellite into its orbit.

In view of the fact that current funds for the Jupiter program provide only for carrying it through December, the question was raised where the money would come from for continuing it.

A Defense Department spokesman replied that it would be the responsibility of the department to "find the money." He also said the Defense Department has lifted any restrictions on the Army for the use of overtime pay for men working on the project.

An announcement said that Secretary Neil McElroy had approved a recommendation by William M. Holaday, his special assistant for guided missiles, "to continue testing of the Jupiter and Thor intermediate range ballistic missiles until a better technical basis is established for an IRBM program decision."

Resolved

The decision to continue the testing of both missiles, probably for some months, resolved a question of whether to terminate one or merge both by the end of this year.

It was based on recommendations of a committee headed by Holaday. Serving with him on the committee were the two top missile experts of the services, Army Gen. John B. Medaris and Air Force Major Gen. B. A. Schriever.

A Defense Department spokesman, discussing the decision, said that he believed "the best interest of the country is to delay dropping either test until we can provide the best possible missile."

He said there will be an "acceleration" of the test programs for both of the 1,500-mile range missiles.

Half Billion

Newsmen asked the spokesman if he could estimate the amount which has been spent in developing and testing the Jupiter and the Thor. Would he say it was a half billion dollars?

The spokesman replied that this would be wrong if related to the expenditures made up to now but "it wouldn't be a bad magnitude for what we will spend."

Is there any indication of when there will be enough tests to make a final decision? That depends on what the tests show from now on, was the reply.

Car Hits, Kills Minnesotan Near Kearney

KEARNEY, Neb. (AP)—Charles H. Freeman, 55, of Minneapolis, Minn., was killed Thursday night when he was struck by a car as he crossed U.S. Highway 30 three miles east of Kearney.

The driver of the car which struck him was identified as Dale A. Williamson, 36, of Lexington, Neb.

Freeman had been a passenger in a car driven by Lawrence P. Lemke, also of Minneapolis. The Lempke car had stopped on the shoulder of the highway and Freeman got out intending to cross the highway to a filling station.

Williamson told Buffalo County Sheriff Lloyd Frank he did not see Freeman until the impact.

The death was Nebraska's 222nd traffic fatality of the year. A year ago there had been 238.

Vaccine Released

WASHINGTON (AP) — Release of 2,125,974 doses of Asian flu vaccine was anounced by the Public Health Service. All but 2,000 doses are for civilian use.

The new figure increased to 15,628,921 doses the total released since the vaccine became available August 12.

—44 Bu. Per Acre—

Corn Yield Hiked

Ideal Weather Is Given Credit

Ideal September weather conditions were credited Thursday for boosting Nebraska's average estimated record corn yield from 43 to 44 bushels per acre.

In its latest forecast, the U.S. Department of Agriculture predicted a corn crop of 215,028,000 bushels for Nebraska. A month ago the department estimated a crop of 43 bushels to the acre, totaling 210,141,000 bushels—a jump of seven bushels to the acre over the previous month's outlook.

The per bushel outlook is the largest on record, surpassing the previous high of 38 in 1952.

When the record high 43-bushel estimate was made a month ago, some late corn still was vulnerable to frost damage. But September weather proved "just ideal for getting the late crop through," said A. V. Nordquist, chief of the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics.

Most Safe From Frost

The great bulk of corn is now safe from frost and has filled out "exceptionally well," Nordquist noted.

Perfect maturing conditions, accompanied by a splendid outlook for production from irrigated fields caused the jump in estimate.

In 1956 Nebraska produced 116,864,000 bushels of corn at the rate of 22 per acre, and the total came from 5,312,000 acres, as compared to 4,887,000 acres this year.

The average corn production for the 10-year period of 1945-54 was 220,863,000 bushels on an average of 30.2 to the acre.

Sorghum Also Up

An Associated Press dispatch said a similar hike was predicted in the record sorghum grain outlook. The forecast based on conditions as of October 1 was for 36 bushels to the acre and a total of 76,824,000 bushels. The September 1 prediction was for 35 bushels to the acre, amounting to 75,690,000 bushels.

The 1957 sorghum acreage was 2,134,000 compared with 889,000 planted to the crop last year and a 10-year average of 224,000 acres.

The top previous sorghum yield was 27 bushels to the acreage in 1954. The 10-year average was 19.6 to the acre and 4,213,000 bushels, while in 1956 the crop came to 121,446,000 bushels at 14 bushels to the acre.

Weather favorable to corn also favored the unprecedented grain sorghum crop, Nordquist said. However, some late sorghum still could be caught by frost, he warned. About two per cent of the sorghum had been harvested by last weekend.

This marks the first year that sorghum has moved into the "major crop" class in Nebraska. Production is more than five times greater than the previous largest yield year.

The wheat production was fixed at 26.9 bushels to the acre and a total of 76,148,000.

Charge Of Murder Is Dismissed

BRIDGEPORT, Neb. (AP)—District Judge Richard Van Steenberg Thursday acted on a motion submitted by County Attorney J. C. Conover and dismissed a second degree murder charge against former Bayard night marshal John Williston, 48.

Williston had been tried on the charge which had been filed by Conover in connection with the fatal shooting of Jacob Pretty Cloud, 43, during an incident at Bayard last Christmas morning.

The trial had resulted in a hung jury divided 6-6 between a manslaughter verdict and acquittal. The jury deliberated a total of 21 hours without reaching a decision.

In other action, Judge Van Steenberg placed Eddie Hernandez, Sidney, on five years probation. Hernandez had been found guilty by a jury Oct. 1, following trial on a statutory rape charge.

U.S. Fifth Atom Sub Is Launched

VALLEJO, Calif. (AP)—The first nuclear powered submarine to be constructed on the Pacific coast—the Sargo—slid down the ways at Mare Island Naval Shipyard Thursday while about 10,000 persons looked on.

After outfitting and commissioning, the Sargo, under command of Lt. Cmdr. Daniel T. Brooks of Phoenix, Ariz., is expected to join the Pacific fleet. It will be the first atomic submarine assigned to the Pacific ocean.

"As this great ship slides into the water, let each of us contemplate for a moment the real meaning of this event and how this great ship adds to the growing deterrent strength of our Navy, our country and the free world," said Vice Admiral Frank T. Watkins, commander of anti-submarine forces in the Atlantic.

The Sargo is the U.S. Navy's fifth atomic submarine. The keel of the 257-foot vessel was laid on Feb. 21, 1956 and the work of 500 shipyard craftsmen has gone into her hull. The ship cost 48 million dollars.

ONLY NEBRASKA WAS INTERESTED:

Russ Immigrant Tells How Electronic Highway System Developed

By JACK POLLOCK
Star Staff Writer

With the testing of an electronic traffic control device at Lincoln Thursday, Nebraska became the pioneer state in development of a device that may eventually lead to autos that drive themselves.

It was the brainchild, however, of Dr. Vladimir K. Zworykin, former boss of the electronic research department for the Radio Corporation of America (RCA) at Princeton, N. J.

Dr. Zworykin came to America as a young immigrant from Russia 34 years ago with an idea that light rays could be "bottled" and put to work making electronic pictures of moving objects that were miles away. Thursday, that comcept — the TV picture tube—permitted millions of Americans to view the action as the Milwaukee Braves won their first World Series.

The stocky inventor, who retired from "active" work at RCA two years ago, claims he offered "ideas" for the highway safety device but that it was "developed" by his staff at RCA. Four years ago, in August 1953, he permitted publication of a magazine article describing the first working model of an electronic system for the automatic control of vehicles on the highway.

He was seeking interest and cooperation in his project from highway engineers, auto manufacturer engineers and electronics engineers, but the only persons impressed were newspapers — except for a lone highway department in the midwest, the Nebraska Department of Roads and Irrigation.

A letter written by Leland Hancock of the Nebraska department, backed by State Engineer L. N. Ress, led to the special test at Lincoln on a full-size basis. Principles developed at RCA laboratories were applied by the Nebraska Highway Department.

One of the primary purposes of Thursday's test, according to Dr. Zworykin, was to gain co-operation between highway, motor vehicle and electronics engineers in hopes that it would lead to better tests on larger scales.

A two-mile test strip to determine more practical aspects such as cost and life of the device could be set up within a year, Zworykin said, depending on the money and interest shown. He pointed out it was "too large a field to be handled by any single corporation or any single state."

The original idea, he explained, was "purely humanitarian" — to eliminate the human factor in accidents.

For Story On The Testing Of The Electronic Highway Device See Page 3

Our tests, he said, involved only expense and no income. But the original idea was purely humanitarian — to save lives by eliminating the human factor in accidents.

"There's no such thing as absolute safety," he said, "but even if the device could prevent 50 per cent of the highway fatalities it could save more than 25,000 lives a year."

Through installation on highways, the safety idea permits electronics to relieve the driver. It warns of approaching cars, could tell of preceding cars, or warn of approaching cars on curves, hills, or in fog and in conditions of poor or no visibility.

Future development could lead to automatic acting on the controls of the car to prevent accidents.

The automatic control would keep the car in the lane and adjust its speed to prevent collisions and obey traffic signals, with the driver taking over whenever he desired to pass a car ahead or to change routes.

Through this device, according to Dr. Zworykin's principles, human elements — such as drowsiness or carelessness — could be replaced by more satisfactory "electronic chauffers."

'Ignoring Constitution Made Hoffa Election Possible'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) said Monday election records of the Teamster Union convention show James R. Hoffa could not have been elected president except for disregard of the union's constitution.

McClellan said the Senate Rackets Investigation Committee, of which he is chairman, will continue its study of Hoffa and his union. Then he added:

"This is also a matter for the courts."

Hoffa was overwhelmingly elected president of the Teamsters in convention last week at Miami Beach, Fla., succeeding Dave Beck.

The Senate committee received records from the convention credentials committee secretary, Joseph Konowe, who said the papers had been thrown out by a hotel maid who later died.

But Konowe said he believes substantially all the records had been recovered.

'Almost Useless'

McClellan, on the other hand, said the delivered records were so incomplete "as to be almost useless."

But even a preliminary examination of what was available, the senator said, "revealed a shocking situation some situations which are just plain scandalous."

He said the Senate committee had found where Beck instructed the credentials committee to ignore the union constitution.

'Dictatorial Action'

"Without this dictatorial action on the part of Mr. Beck, Mr. Hoffa, the candidate of his choosing, could not have been elected president of the Teamsters," McClellan said.

McClellan also said the constitution was clearly violated on two of its requirements: that delegations to the convention be selected before Sept. 1 and that this be done at a general membership meeting of the locals.

He specifically mentioned, in this connection, the choice of delegates from Local 107 in Philadelphia, Hoffa's own Local 299 in Detroit and the Detroit local of Bert Brennan, a Hoffa friend and union vice president.

Noisy Greeting

Hoffa returned home to Detroit late Thursday afternoon and was greeted at Willow Run Airport by an estimated 2,000 noisy welcomers, many of them from his home Local 229.

Reporters did not get to question Hoffa, but before he was ushered to a waiting automobile by union members, Hoffa spoke to the throng from an improvised stage.

He vowed to fight what he called an effort to destroy organized labor. In an obvious reference to his election, Hoffa said:

"If they can pass restrictive legislation solely because they do not like the man who has been elected, then they will be passing legislation on a vindictive and personality basis."

Ike, Faubus In 'Silent Deadlock'

Negro Pitches Softball Game

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The Central High School racial integration crisis subsided Thursday into a silent deadlock.

Gov. Orval Faubus stood firm on his statement that no compromise is in sight unless nine Negro students are withdrawn from integrated Central classrooms.

President Eisenhower has refused to withdraw regular Army troops and federalized Arkansas National Guardsmen from the school until he is satisfied that the court endorsed Central High integration plan will be enforced by local authorities.

The six Negro girls and three boys were all in class Thursday.

No Attention

Shorts-clad girls again went through gym classes on the playgrounds back of the school. A few soldiers and officers went about duties in the immediate vicinity without, however, seeming to draw an attention from the girls.

ASIAN FLU CASES IN U.S. PASS ONE MILLION MARK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service estimated Thursday that Asian flu cases have passed the million mark. A spokesman said the 1,077,000 cases reported since early June do not include several hundred thousand in New York as that state has not officially reported any totals.

The weekly report estimated there were 350,000 new cases last week. These, plus delayed reports, pushed the total past one million. Last week the total was reported as 422,650.

"These figures must be considered as very rough estimates and should not be regarded as showing the precise incidence of influenza," the report said.

Most of the influenza-like cases continued to be reported in schools, colleges, institutions and other closed groups.

Up to the present time only a few states have reported epidemics in their general populations, the report said.

Mayor Lauds Plan For 33rd, O Park

Rogers Tract Central Location Said To Give 'Tremendous Opportunity'

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Mayor Bennett Martin hailed as a "tremendous opportunity" for Lincoln citizens the Park and Recreation Board's proposed development of the city-owned 47-acre tract at 33rd and O.

"It's the most important subject," the mayor said, that the City Council will be called upon to consider next Monday.

Martin compared the land gift by the Frank Woods family some 10 years ago with the earlier gift by the Harris family of what is now Pioneers Park.

Noting the 33rd and O tract's central location within the city boundaries, Martin said:

"Few other cities of Lincoln's size have any such possibility for development of a recreational area in so convenient a location."

Site Plans Ready

Definite site plans, prepared by Clark and Enersen and recommended by the park board, are to be presented to the Council next Monday.

Martin said he thoroughly favored the park board's recommendations that the 33rd and O tract be developed as a park and recreation area.

"I am sure the City Council," he added, "will be most happy to work hand in hand with the Park and Recreation Board for the development of this tract."

'Compensate Loss'

Noting that unfortunately in past years parts of long-held park land were necessarily given to the development of the city's modern streets and diagonals, Martin said development of the Woods-given tract would "compensate for this loss" and provide the city with a municipality recreational facility ranking "with the finest in the nation."

Martin urged that Lincoln citizens express in writing to the Council any ideas or suggestions for help and guidance in the tract's development.

"We must act courageously and quickly to take advantage of the tremendous opportunity before us," he said.

The 33rd and O tract was purchased from Mrs. Margaret H. Rogers in 1947 with $65,000 made available by the Woods family.

Although viewed as a park and recreational area for the city, the tract during the past years had been unsuccessfully proposed for other uses.

Site plans for the tract include a ball diamond, picnic areas, swimming pool, recreational building and decorative lake.

Historical Society Gets Ax Head

A prehistoric stone ax head, estimated to be 800 or 1,000 years old, which was found on the grounds of the new Governors mansion, was formally presented to the Nebraska State Historical Society Thursday by Gov. Victor Anderson. Marvin Kivett, (r.), director of the Society's Museum, accepted the ax head on behalf of the Society. He described the ax head, fashioned from glacier stone, as a "very good specimen, and said, "We're happy to have it." (Star Photo.)

SRC Control Over Gas Co. Is Relinquished

The State Railway Commission said Thursday it has rescinded a previous order under which the Commission assumed jurisdiction over rates and services of the North Central Gas Co., in supplying gas to the city of Bayard.

The Commission action was in conformity with a Nebraska Supreme Court mandate.

On a split vote, the Commission decided last year that the North Central Gas Co. was a common carrier subject to the Commission's jurisdiction. It marked the first time the commission had exercised jurisdiction over a natural gas company.

The Supreme Court, this year, however, reversed the Railway Commission and held that North Central was not a common carrier subject to Commission jurisdiction within the meaning of the law.

Final action on the case had been deferred pending a high court ruling on a motion to reconsider. The motion recently was overruled and the Supreme Court last week issued its mandate in the case.

The controversy arose in connection with the city of Bayard's attempt to acquire North Central's gas distribution system in the city by condemnation. North Central indicated it would refuse to sell gas wholesale to the city should it have to give up its distribution system.

North Central contended it is a gas retailer, not a wholesaler, and should not be forced to go into the wholesale business against its will.

MRS. FORD APPLIES FOR TICK-TOCK BEER PERMIT

Mrs. Florence Ford of 2543 Scott has applied to the City Council for an "off-and-on-sale" beer license for the Tick-Tock Tavern at 1040 P.

Earlier this week, the Council revoked the beer license of Sam P. Darrow at the Tick-Tock to be effective this Saturday at midnight.

Mrs. Ford, sister of Darrow, was licensee at the Tick-Tock for three years before the license was transferred last May to her brother.

She testified during the revocation hearing of her brother's license that Harry Cheever, a Tick-Tock employe, approached her many times to buy the tavern.

Reports Charged

Darrow's attorney charged at the public hearing that Cheever made reports of alleged drinking by Darrow while on duty because of Cheever's interest in obtaining the license.

Darrow was cited before the Council on two alleged sales to minors and allegedly drinking on duty in the tavern on Sept. 14.

No citations of the Tick-Tock's operation were made during the three-year licenseship of Mrs. Ford.

Darrow's attorney had charged a "conspiracy" by Cheever and possibly others to obtain the Tick-Tock license.

Accompanying Mrs. Ford's license application is an "assignment of lease" from Darrow to his sister, according to city officials.

Burglary With Blackjack Nets 5-Year Term

Leon V. Miller, 23, of 448 No. 42nd, was sentenced to five years in the Men's Reformatory Thursday by District Judge Harry A. Spencer.

Miller had pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary in connection with an incident Sept. 17 at the home of Hays P. Lacy, 1020 No. 30th. Miller admitted before Judge Spencer that he struck Lacy on the head with a home-made blackjack when Lacy awoke as Miller was attempting to burglarize the home.

Judge Spencer, noting that Lacy suffered a serious head wound and may still lose the sight of one eye as a result, told Miller that he was "very lucky" that he was not in court charged with murder. The judge said it appeared that if Lacy had not moved his head just as Miller struck Lacy might have been killed.

Miller used a blackjack made from a piece of rubber hose filled with lead in the attack. After striking Lacy Miller fled when Lacy's wife screamed. He was arrested a few days later.

WAC COMMANDER URGES ASSISTS FOR 'SHAPING UP'

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP)—A new, young commander told her WAC detachment here to get an assist from girdles and falsies, if necessary, and "shape up" before Saturday.

Lt. Jeane Wolcott of Kent, Ohio, said "I didn't exactly order them. I just told them."

Some of the girls think she went too far. One said she might write her congressman.

The advice, a "girl-to-girl talk," came after Lt. Wolcott's first inspection of the outfit. Only one of the 86 women "met specifications perfectly," she said.

Most of the faults were minor. Some "did not fill their WAC uniforms properly," Lt. Wolcott said.

"When a WAC isn't well endowed," the lieutenant explained, "the uniform has a tendency to dip in front of the shoulders. Padding at the shoulders will take the dip out. So will falsies."

Lt. Wolcott admitted that neither falsies nor girdles are government issue.

"For this reason I couldn't order them to improve their appearance, and there will be no disciplinary action against any who refuse to do so," she assured.

Russians Touch Off A-Bomb

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission Thursday night reported another Soviet nuclear test — this time a small one taking place Thursday — and located it north of the Arctic Circle.

The commission issued a one-sentence report:

"Another nuclear test has been conducted in the current Soviet series, the latest test was a small explosion on Oct. 10 at a site north of the Arctic Circle."

Russia began the current series Aug. 23 with what the AEC the next day termed "a detonation of substantial size." It reported another one, of moderate size, Sept. 9.

On Sept. 25 the AEC announced detection of another Russian nuclear explosion, which presumably was a test of a hydrogen bomb.

Last Monday the Russians themselves announced the successful testing of "a powerful hydrogen device of new design." The AEC later said it was of substantial size.

The United States has just concluded a series of nuclear tests at the Nevada proving grounds.

Thursday night's AEC report locating the Russian explosion as being north of the Arctic Circle differed slightly from previous references to "Siberian Proving Grounds." However, much of Siberia is north of the circle.

Man Nabbed In Fraud, Was Believed Dead

BOSTON (AP)—A Suffolk County Grand Jury Thursday indicted a Brookline business man, arrested a few hour earlier in Houston, Tex., exactly 48 days after he had been reported drowned in Boston Harbor.

The nine-count indictment accused Alvin Plackter, 37-year-old veteran of 103 European bombing missions, of using fraudulent securities to obtain $10,475 from Pilgrim Trust Co.

Placker, married and father of one child, was in Houston, police said, with a 27-year-old blonde who was not arrested.

She had lived here in a fashionable apartment building on Beacon Hill.

Swimmer

Plackter, a former star athlete at Pennsylvania University and described by police as a powerful swimmer, was reported to have fallen from his 22-foot pleasure boat, Sea Mist II, Aug. 23.

The same day, police said, he made a $15,000 payment on two double indemnity life insurance policies, totaling $130,000. Aug. 23 was the last day in a grace period for late payment of premiums.

The policies, said Deputy Police Supt. Michael T. Clougherty were taken out by Plackter only in July.

Boeing No. 1 In Military Contracts

WASHINGTON (INS) — American multi-billion-dollar orders for intercontinental jet bombers Thursday put the Boeing Aircraft Company ahead of General Motors Corporation as the nation's number one military contractor.

The Defense Department semi-annual report on the "one hundred largest contractors" showed that since July 1, 1950, Boeing has received military orders totaling seven billion, 74 million dollars—compared to seven billion, 24 millions for GM.

Boeing, with headquarters at Seattle, is the manufacturer of the 650 mile-an-hour B-52 intercontinental jet bomber. Approximately 150 of these have been delivered at a cost of more than eight million dollars each. Another 450 of the big planes have been ordered.

First Electronic Traffic Control Device Field Test Here

Highway engineers, traffic experts, scientists and automobile manufacturers from all over the nation were in Lincoln Thursday to witness the first field test of a basic electronic traffic control system which is activated by cars passing over the highway.

Radio Corporation of America (RCA) scientists and spokesmen for the Nebraska Department of Roads, which co-operated in this test, foresee in the system possible eventual automatic operation of vehicles comparable to the railroad "block" system or the automatic pilot in airplanes.

Even in its present stage of development, State Engineer L. N. Ress said, the system can:

1. Give the right of way to two or more vehicles approaching a point of merging traffic.

2. Warn the driver of the presence of an obstacle in the highway around a curve or over a hill ahead.

3. Warn a driver when he is following too closely behind the car ahead.

4. Warn a driver when he is going too fast.

5. Operate traffic lights at intersections more flexibly than by present methods.

320-Foot Strip

The tests were conducted on a 320-foot strip of highway at the intersection of Highways 77 and 2 south of Lincoln by the Nebraska State Penitentiary.

For nearly two hours, test cars mingled with conventional traffic on the highway in which was imbedded a series of 14 wire loops, each associated with a detector unit and an antenna which signaled the car's presence to a series of boundary lights placed along the highway.

As an unequipped car passed over the strip, the lights flashed on in sequence, remaining lighted until the car had passed by each.

'Dynamic Picture'

This moving string of lights will give the driver "a dynamic picture of the speed of the car approaching," said L. E. Flory, head of the RCA research team operating under the direction of Dr. Vladimir K. Zworykin, who conceived the idea of the electronic highway system.

Switching to a rented car in which the RCA engineers had installed a pair of small coils on the bumper and a small meter in the cab, Harold Gray, another member of the RCA team, drove the car with his windshield blacked out, holding a straight course by means of signals transmitted to his meter from a guide wire laid underneath the pavement.

When he got too close to the car ahead a bell sounded and a light flashed on. When he dropped back the signals stopped. He held his course by observing the swinging needle of the meter.

Operating Signal

While all this was going on the system was operating a "merging traffic" signal at the intersection.

These same signals, Dr. Zworykin said, could be used to operate steering gear, accelerator and brakes in the car of the future.

The RCA scientists emphasized that their system is "compatible." It can be installed in existing highways or new highways being built. It can provide visual traffic control for cars which have no special equipment. Additional functions can be added to this basic system as they are developed.

Several engineers said they felt the potentialities of this system should be examined as quickly as possible to see if it should be incorporated in roads now being planned.

Pioneering In Field

Nebraska, pioneering in the field, first became interested in experimenting with the electronic control system four years ago, Ress said.

The Nebraska state engineer said he thought the state would continue in the experiments, but added he thought some of the other states "should share in the glory" also.

Highway department officials said the "out-of-pocket" cost of the state for the experiment was "nominal—maybe five to ten dollars" because everything except the inexpensive wire imbedded in the highway was loaned by RCA.

A total of 83 representatives from highway departments of other states, the Bureau of Public Roads, Stanford Research Institute, the Ford Motor Co. and General Motors, attended the demonstration in Lincoln Thursday.

Car Blinded For Field Test

This World, My Home by Walter Locke

Walter Locke's life has spanned an amazing range of American culture and history—from a boyhood in the primitive culture of the West Virginia hills, to the nineteenth century civilization of railroad, politics and prairie farming in Nebraska, to the industrial cities of the twentieth century.

The family moved to Nebraska in 1884 when Walter Locke was a boy of nine. Living in Roca, Walter Locke worked in the stone quarry, sold newspapers in Lincoln, taught school, attended the University of Nebraska and eventually joined the staff of the "Nebraska State Journal." He became an editor of the State Journal staff, where he remained until 1926 when he became editor of the "Dayton (Ohio) Daily News."

Technically an autobiography, "This World, My Home" is also a social and spiritual history of America, written by the one man who has the experience, the purity of character and the literary skill to render such an account of our national life.

Kennedy Turns On The Light

Senator John Kennedy of Massachusetts did no injury to American thought this week when he told a Chicago audience that this nation would spend its time profitably re-thinking its foreign aid program.

An internationalist at heart it was not Senator Kennedy's idea that the question was one of continuing or abandoning foreign aid. It was rather one of squaring an aid program with facts.

The leaders of the world have two things to reckon with, explosive population growth and the rapidly widening gap between the have and the have-not nations. The combination is posing a greater threat to the United States and the West than is Communism. Investing heavily in themselves, the Americas of the world have taken their societies into the realms of plenty while the retarded areas by standing still are falling farther behind and paying the price in increasing poverty. In their untenable position a resort to Communism or to any other form of attempted jail breaking is easy.

It is not a matter that will yield to striped pants diplomacy. Rather it is a job for a rescue squad, foreign investment, economic and resources programs—whatever it takes to pull the have-nots out of their pit.

That truth has been at the core of the problem from the close of World War II. There is a necessity for the West to take great forward social, technological and economic strides but those alone do not spell security. A better standard of living for all people, greater self-earned rewards progress by example rather than precept are the brighter paths toward international co-operation and world friendship for the West.

Well, The Braves Did It

Nebraska congratulates the Milwaukee Braves for their conquest of Gotham. The Midlands are again a force to be reckoned with. Honor has come to the grain belt. The invincible Yankees have been made "vincible," at least for a year.

It has been a trying season for New York City. The Pacific Coast walked off with two of its three baseball clubs. The Braves stripped the Yankees of their national championship. The course of empire surely seems to be westward.

We shall leave it to the baseball-minded to agree or differ on the strategy of the series. Such prefer to do their own thinking. But there are other aspects. One was the happy turbulence in the heart of the Milwaukee third baseman, when ball safely in glove, he stepped on the bag for the last putout of the last game. For him and his team mates it was a $3,030 putout —the difference between the winners' and losers' share. One sees great plays in baseball but $3,000 putouts are relative scarce, even in this time of inflated money. We imagine the finger marks were a half inch deep in that baseball.

The fall of the heavily entrenched Yankee heroes will force a reorganization of thought in young America, but the young people will be able to rise to that situation.

It is too early to tell yet what will happen in the razor blade industry. Its fabric has been deeply interwoven with the Yogi Berras and the Mickey Mantles. Surely those titans will be paying for their own blades from now on, and whatever public shaving for pay is to be done will be done in the masculine boudoirs of Milwaukee. This particular phase of American culture has definitely departed from Manhattan. Meantime, the question of catch-as-catch-can shaving and classic shaving is wide open again, daily confronting every American man the first thing every morning. This bright new nuclear age is becoming more perplexing every minute. If you don't believe it, ask Casey Stengel.

But there is one thing that hasn't changed. Big league baseball is still the great national pastime, dear to the hearts of all. The World Series is still the greatest sports show on earth. The one just completed was in the richest of tradition. One crucial double play is still the equivalent of 15 major generals, three cabinet members, or 600 acres of fertile farm land.

School District Reorganization

There was a welcome note of firmness to the action of the State School Reorganization Committee in ordering the dissolution of 43 county school redistricting committees in the state. Welcome, also, were the reports of counties to the state committee on plans for redistricting.

The county committees being dissolved had failed to submit to the state organization plans for district reorganization within their boundaries. With the state action, these committees will be abolished and new ones set up.

While this still leaves the job of redistricting undone in the counties where committees have been dissolved, the action shows determination to see the knotty reorganization program carried to a successful conclusion. It will take just such determination to reach the desired goal. It will take, also, a realization on the part of the individual counties that redistricting is basic to a sound approach to better and more efficient educational facilities.

The plans of the Knox County committee clearly shows what can be accomplished if there is a will to do it. In Knox and a part of Cedar County, 15 small districts are to be combined into one district with a total enrollment of 350 pupils.

There can be no question that in terms of physical plant and faculty, the new arrangement is going to save money. Teachers who previously might have conducted classes for only a handful of students will now be able to take care of four or five times as many pupils.

Where a separate plant was required for groups of perhaps as small as 10 to 20 students, there will now be a centrally located school for all of these children combined. The actual number of buildings will be substantially reduced with a corresponding savings in tax dollars.

There will doubtless be problems of transportation for some youngsters but this should not be an unsurmountable difficulty. The state can do nothing but profit from the redistricting moves and the action of counties such as Knox that have moved forward in this program should provide an excellent example for the rest of Nebraska.

Coming Of Age

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

City officials and advisory groups seem to be coming more to life in regard to park matters and there is a feeling that it will mean as well the coming of age of a grand thing for Lincoln at 33rd and O. Probably no other area of city affairs commands the support or invokes the zeal of more citizens than do the parks. While it cannot always be done, here is a place where you want to just forget about money, forget about other needs and build and build and build.

★

At 33rd and O, the people of Lincoln have been favored with the generosity of citizens who felt a real affection for the community in which they lived. This affection was shown in the form of a gift of the large park tract at 33rd and O. The land was purchased for the city by the Woods Charitable Fund from Mrs. Margaret H. Rogers for the sum of $65,000. Worth perhaps double that amount even in 1947 when it was acquired by the city, the park represents an act by the Rogers and Woods families for which the people of Lincoln will always be grateful. To some, it might seem as though the city has shown ingratitude by its failure to develop the park. In a sense, this might be true but it must be said that because of its size and strategic location, it has been coveted for many different things and thus kept in a constant state of uncertainty. With so many possible uses, it has been difficult to make a plan for the park and move ahead with it.

Gift From Two Families

Also, there has been the question of money. For years, with a charter-imposed mill levy limit, the city was in a financial strait jacket and could not move forward. It has taken all the three or four years since the limit was removed just to catch up with those things that deteriorated during the period of neglect. Consequently, there has been little money left for things beyond the basic and essential services of government. It is doubtful if any city departments suffered more than parks because of these conditions.

★

But hope now seems to be rising that something can be done with the tract at 33rd and O. A plan for development of the site as a park and recreation center has been approved by the City Park and Recreation Board and will go before the City Council on Monday. We, of course, are still a long way from having anything done at the site but at least thinking is beginning to jell on what should be done. It is fundamental that this must happen before any transformation of the now vacant land can take place. Now abandoned, and for the betterment of Lincoln, are plans for use of the tract as a hospital site, high school football stadium or any purpose other than park and recreation. No funds for facilities planned for the park are yet available but if the determination to improve the area is present, then there is every confidence that a way will be found. It is a long time to the city's next fiscal year and a new budget but it is not too early to think of placing at least a part of the needed funds in the 1958-59 appropriations.

Reserved For Park Use

In the 33rd and O site the city has an area of almost unlimited potential. The belief of city officials that the site could be one of the finest parks in the city is not a far-fetched one. Not only is it centrally located, but it would serve an area that is now virtually without such facilities. It would be hard to find a place for investment of funds where the returns would be greater than those that could come from a park in the heart of the city.

Japanese Comeback

It is noteworthy that Japan, not so long ago a last ditch enemy of the United States, has been given a place on the United Nations Security Council with the blessing both of America and its western neighbors. Japan has emerged from defeat to the extent that it is again a sovereign power and can by no means be identified either as a satellite or a puppet for its victor, the U.S. It will be a full voiced spokesman for Asia.

All of this scores well for United States treatment of defeated powers and for the United Nations. The picture would be more satisfactory, however, if a better solution could be found for the problem of Red and Nationalist China. The latter was given high place in the United Nations at the outset. But events have altered the relationships and Nationalist China today speaks only for itself and the little island of Formosa, not for much of Asia. Thus far the alternative to that is the admission of Red China which in numerous acts has failed to evoke world confidence. It is a hard dilemma which as yet offers no satisfactory solution. Japan's elevation has solved a portion of Asia's problem, but it remains for the future to reveal the rest of it.

Witch Hunting Now Coming Home To Roost

WASHINGTON — One of the least talked about but very real reasons why the United States is lagging behind Russia in scientific development, according to top scientists, is the witch-hunting tactics of U.S. government agencies. Scientists have been investigated, hounded, and discouraged from working for the government.

Most notable case was that of Dr. Robert Oppenheimer, in charge of the government's atomic project at Los Alamos, N.M., who did such a notable job of speeding production of the atomic bomb. He was publicly investigated on the order of Chairman Lewis Strauss of the AEC and his government security clearance removed. Oppenheimer had been entrusted with the most vital secrets of the war, yet after the war he was considered a security risk.

His inventive brain is now lost to the government.

While this is a loss, a much greater loss was the effect on other less-known scientists. An untold number have either got out of government projects or shied away from working for the government.

☆ ☆ ☆

DR. UREY HOUNDED

The public has little conception of the lengths to which witch-hunting has been carried.

When Dr. Harold Urey of the University of Chicago, one of the original builders of the A-bomb, was traveling through Europe last year, he found himself trailed by State Department agents. Finally he demanded a showdown, called State Department officials into his office and wanted to know why they were hounding him. They apologized.

Here is the roll-call of younger scientists, some of whom made mistakes, but all of whom were hounded out of government with repercussions which discouraged other scientists:

Frank Oppenheimer, brother of Robert, who worked on the A-bomb project at the University of California, was investigated by the House Un-American Activities Committee, and lost his government clearance. Oppenheimer admitted he made mistakes in his political associations. A brilliant scientist, he is now unable to get a scientific job and is working on a small cattle ranch in Colorado.

Bernard Peters, a refugee from Hitler and a naturalized citizen, worked on the atomic project during the war, was investigated for his political associations, lost his government clearance and is now teaching at the Tata Research Institute in Bombay, India.

Joseph Weinberg, better known as Mr. X, a brilliant scientist who once was a member of the Communist party, worked on the A-bomb project at the University of California, lost his job, was prosecuted for perjury, but acquitted. Unable to get a scientific job, he is now working for an optical company.

REFUGEES BUILT A-BOMB

Prof. Linus Pauling of California Tech is a Nobel prize winner and one of the most brilliant chemists in the world. But because he signed a petition to stop nuclear tests, Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare Oveta Hobby, for whom he was doing some research, abruptly stopped that research. She then tried to maneuver with Cal Tech to have the work continued without Dr. Pauling being connected with it—all because he exercised his freedom as a citizen in opposing A-bomb tests.

Some of these scientists were indiscreet. Some unwise. Some were naturalized citizens. Some were possible security risks. But whether they were right or wrong, the government policy of witch-hunting has discouraged innumerable other scientists from working for the government.

Ike Downgrades Russ Achievement

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower gave the Soviet satellite the miltown treatment at his weekly press conference.

He cast doubt on its military significance. He said we were never in a satellite race with the Russians. He has not ordered any crash program to launch a U.S. satellite. Apparently it will limp along as before — which is four months behind schedule.

He even downgraded the scientific value of the satellite. He said every American scientist he had talked to was pleased rather than upset by the Russian success.

The question now is whether the President's remarks were intended to calm the public or whether they constitute a deliberately formulated guide for his administration to follow. If it is the latter, he will most certainly be obliged to defend it against a major and vocal segment of scientific opinion and against apprehensive members of Congress.

The President's approach set up an arbitrary dividing line between pure science and national security. Repeatedly he emphasized that the U.S. satellite was being built for scientific purposes alone.

In essence this amounts to a defense against the charge that by permitting the Soviet Union to pioneer in outer space, the administration has been derelict in protecting the national security. The most the President would grant the Russians was that they had perhaps won a propaganda victory.

He could hardly have pretended otherwise. It appears to many observers to be a victory of monumental importance. In widespread areas of the world where the battle between West and East is still in doubt, it will come as proof of Soviet claims of scientific superiority.

They were quick to follow their success with announcements of other achievements in the missile field. They have promised that another and more fully equipped satellite will be launched in "the nearest future," a move insuring that the question of rocket development will continue to be a matter of world-wide speculation.

The net impression left by the unusually long press conference was that while the President had protected himself and his administration from the immediate charges of failure to protect the national interest, he had again begged the question of his responsibility for creating national policy.

ED FITZHUGH

Brand New Formula For Driftwood Decor

It might have been the bug killer, the spirits of ammonia or the rubbing alcohol. Or it might have been something else. Whatever it was, I had a wonderful discovery there for a few minutes, if only I had kept track of the formula.

In the beginning, the problem was how to take the wax, varnish, stain, oil and whatnot off of an old table top which I had cut down to make a coffee table for the living room.

Optimist that I am, I tried sandpaper first. I pushed it back and forth with gusto across the ancient smoothness, bearing my weight down hard. The sandpaper skidded, my arm went out from under, and I barely averted adding the skin of my nose to the already historic layers of polish and paint.

A brief examination of the sandpaper demonstrated that it would never do. It had picked up enough wax to be slicker than bear grease on a mud slide. A fellow could have used it to go skating on a cobblestone driveway. I went looking for paint remover. There was none in the house. I sought wax remover. None of that, either. There were some intriguing substitutes, though.

Not knowing exactly which one of the possible substitutes might serve my purpose, I gathered them all up and repaired to the basement to resume my attack on the table top. It seemed like a good idea to start easy, so as a beginner I doused the surface with rubbing alcohol. It made things very shiny for a minute, but then it evaporated before I could get it well rubbed off with a cloth.

Surveying what had happened to the table top, which by now looked like a piece of oak which had got the measles, smallpox and anemia all at once, it became evident that something had at least had an effect on the conglomerate layers of age-old finish. There were even a few holes that seemed to get a lot deeper than the finish.

☆ ☆ ☆

That was when Mrs. F. came to the basement, possibly to see what it was that was smelling up the house.

"What in the world are you doing?" she demanded.

Mrs. F. took one look at the labels on the bottles, another at the gathering puddle on the table top, and shouted, "Run for your life! It's going to explode."

I was on the second floor with my fingers in my ears before I began to suspect Mrs. F. had been joking. By the time I got back to the basement, it was too late to wipe off the mixture. It had sunk in. It might be more truthful to say it had eaten in. That's why, today, we have the only coffee table in town with a top which looks like twisted driftwood. I only wish I knew which combination did it. Good driftwood is hard to get.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

Foxes In The Hen House; Autumn In The Air

By MONA B. PARKER

The battle of the blinds was officially under way as of last Saturday, the Nance County Journal reminded all those up and down the Loup and others who seek out favorite duck-hunting spots near Fullerton. Besides duck, at the moment grouse, coot and jacksnipe are fair game. Also, anyone holding a hunting permit can chase after bullfrogs with firearms, bow and arrow, hand or net and be within his legal rights. However, says the paper, science as an aid is down the river this year. Prohibited is the use of any sort of electrical device for enticing game within blasting range. No recordings and amplifications of goose or duck calls.

"The hunter will have to blow his own."

The Loup Valley Queen extolls with a feeling shared by all Nebraskan the loveliness of the autumn season . . .

". . . bright red woodbine sprawls over the gray-green buffalo berry bushes . . . tawny grasses are a foil for brilliant sumac . . . the river flows quietly . . . calves stand knee-deep in lush pastures . . gardens still glow with phlox, zinnias, marigolds and salvia . . . squashes are collected in mounds for later storing . . . the corn is ripening, favored by a delayed frost . . . smoke curls out of chimneys on crisp mornings. June was filled with promise. October is fulfillment . . . "

A Scotia Register writer claims for top beauty honors the stretch of countryside from Elba to Scotia in all its autumn colors. In spring, she favors "the buds bursting open to form a splurge of green against the cool, shadowy water in the Loup and the background of green hills." But in the fall of the year she changes her mind, woman's eternal prerogative.

One can pick up a variety of rather amazing bits of information in the county agents' columns conducted through the local pages of the state's weeklies. For instance, did you know that if you are about to kick a hog, it is advisable to take off your shoe first? It has nothing to do with the effect on the shoe leather, or yet the well-aimed toe. And one is to guess that it must be a fairly common practice among swine raisers, if statistics have been drawn up on the matter. It seems, from a strictly profitable point of view, that such treatment causes injuries to bellies and hams, accounting for more than half of an estimated $5 million national loss due to bruises.

And the best part of the privilege of seeing it all —"it's free of charge!"

☆ ☆ ☆

Customary greetings among the local citizenry of Spalding, the Enterprise notes, have developed into inquiries on an already acquired case of flu or whether or not the friend has had it yet.

"You just aren't normal if you didn't have the flu, haven't just recovered, or aren't just coming down with it," Dorothy Conway says. "Thank goodness, I'm not normal — so far, that is."

☆ ☆ ☆

A fox got into the Ahrndt chicken coop north of Scribner one early morning recently and made off with a fat hen. The family heard the commotion, but too late. At the moment, in anticipation of a return performance, there are three waiting guns lined up in the kitchen . . .

Henry Trysla updates an old old saw in the Dakota County Star with: "The hand that rocks the cradle charges 80 cents an hour."

H. M. Crilly, Superior Express editor, had occasion to see a friend he had worked for on a farm 45 years ago. Which led him right into a reflective mood.

"Kids these days miss a lot by not having the opportunity to go out in the summers to shock wheat and pitch bundles as we used to do, back before the days of automation on the farm. It wasn't easy work, by a long shot, but there was some fun that went along with it, three square meals a day, and a chance to make good friends—the kind you may lose track of but never forget. You could also save up enough spending money to do you all winter."

MARQUIS CHILDS

Demos Bid For California

LOS ANGELES — In the great California sweepstakes that promises to dominate the politics of 1958 and beyond the Democrats have two entries on whom the political bookmakers look with more than customary favor.

These would be Democrats for Democrats, you must add, since in this state with its predominant Democratic registration the tradition is to elect Republicans. Next year Democratic leaders profess to have real hopes of breaking that tradition and in so doing to throw the Republican party nationally off balance for the presidential race in 1960.

In short, the Democrats are "going for top money or dirt." That is a phrase out of the rodeo circuit and used by breezy Representative Clair Engle who will run for the Senate seat now held by Senator William F. Knowland, the Senate's Republican leader. Knowland has come back to California to challenge Governor Goodwin J. Knight for the governorship, with the lure of the presidential nomination in '60 just over the horizon.

Engle, who represents a vast district made up of 19 of the state's 58 counties in the north and west, is in California holding hearings on water, Indians and other matters under the jurisdiction of the interior committee of which he is chairman. Beneath the breezy, western surface Engle has a broad knowledge of the water problems of this region which lives so precariously balanced between a water supply that must come from ever-greater distances and a continuing influx of people adding up to perhaps the greatest migration in history.

While Californians were not altogether happy with his vote on the upper Colorado River project, ruling out a potential source of water, and this will be used against him in the campaign, he is rated the strongest candidate the Democrats have had in years. Moreover, the Republicans have no outstanding man to run against him, their best bet to date being George Christopher, San Francisco's hard-working handshaking mayor.

For governor the Democrats will run, unless they get into one of the suicidal hassles to which they have been prone in California, Attorney General Edmund G. (Pat) Brown. Brown is cautious, conservative, a proven vote-getter with the out-thrust hand technique of Estes Kefauver. Reluctant to run in the past, he frankly says that he could not resist the present opportunity with the hope, which he is audibly encouraging, that Knowland and Knight will, like the Kilkenny cats, kill each other off in furious battle.

Certainly, all is not bliss in the Republican paradise. Representative Patrick J. Hillings, who succeeded to Vice-President Nixon's seat in the House, is itching to run for the Senate, but since the other senator, Thomas H. Kuchel, is from the south, voters in northern California feel strongly that the candidate should come from their baliwick.

Toughness Needed

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Apparently Red spy ring leaders and other conspirators who have worked for a decade to overthrow our country looked so sad in court that one of our federal judges lowered their sentences.

While reading about this, I thought of my grandson, Bill, who brings home nothing but A-pluses from school. He is just a little fellow, and when he fell and skinned his leg badly, I rushed to help him. But he looked up with tears in his eyes and said: "It's O.K., Grandma. I's tough."

Bill, we need judges like you.

Equal In His Eyes

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: There has been so much in the paper about Negroes not being allowed in certain places since the uproar in Little Rock. Why? Is everyone taking his spite out on them because their skin is black? This is supposed to be a free country, but what is free about it? The Negroes do the same kind of work we do, have the same kind of money to buy things, and were put on earth by the same Creator. We're all equal in the eyes of God. White men are letting pride run away with them.

Why should we turn down dark people who were born and reared here, and then bring foreigners into this country, people who have countries of their own? Our country is overcrowded now but the President keeps bringing in people from all over the world.

I have known two Negro families personally, and one couldn't find a white person any place more polite, thoughtful or better to obey the laws of the land. Also they are all hard workers —something white men get out of as much as possible. Why don't we begin picking out their good points instead of the bad — we all have bad ones. Let's try to get along with all of God's children. We'd have a much happier world. We are all the same in His eyes, so let's be that way toward one another.

Hearing Nov. 12 On Ft. Randall Line

The State Railway Commission Thursday set Nov. 12 as the date for a hearing on the application of the Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Co-op. of West Point seeking authority to build a 230 kv transmission line from Fort Randall, S. D. into Nebraska.

Termination of the proposed line would be at Tamora Junction near Seward.

Representing 23 rural public power districts in Nebraska, the G&T Co-op. stated in its application that the 165-mile line would traverse Boyd, Holt, Knox, Antelope, Pierce, Madison, Platte, Butler and Seward counties.

Nebraska has tried for many years to get the federal government to build a heavy-duty line to carry hydro-electric power from the Missouri River dam at Fort Randall into Nebraska. Congress has refused to appropriate the money for the line, however.

In the absence of federal appropriations, two separate plans for constructing the line are afoot.

Consumers Public Power District also has stated that it is going ahead with plans to build the line with a terminal point either at Columbus or Lincoln. CPPD has not yet filed an application with the Railway Commission to construct the line.

G & T has estimated the cost of its line a $5.5 million and has said Nebraska REA's would finance a little over $2 million of the line's costs from its reserves.

G & T President A. G. Sydow of Wayne has said that a little over $1 million of that amount already has been pledged by the Nebraska REA's. He said the group would try to get a loan from the federal REA to finance the remainder.

CPPD has estimated the cost of its proposed line at $6.5 to $7 million if Lincoln is the terminal point. Its line would be financed through revenue bonds.

The Railway Commission has no authority to decide which of the two groups would build such a line. Applicants must only prove they will meet safety requirements and conform with state laws and commission rules and regulations, rather than having to prove the necessity of the line.

Boy, 8, Injured In Car Mishap

Eight-year-old Kenneth Skoglund of 426 So. 21st was treated at a local hospital for a shoulder bruise and released Thursday after he was in collision with a car on 21st between M and Capitol Parkway.

Police said the youth was in collision with a car driven by Francis E. Mauk, 30, of 7145 Starr, who was driving north on 21st at the time. Skoglund was attemping to cross the street when the mishap occurred.

Woman, 37, Said In Good Condition After Crash Hurts

Mrs. Genevieve Cornish, 37, of 2507 No. 14th, was reported in good condition at a local hospital after she was injured early Thursday morning in a one-car accident in the 3300 block on No. 1st St.

She suffered neck and shoulder injuries when the car in which she was riding left the road and rolled over, ending up on its top, the Sheriff's Office reported. Driver of the car, Reynolds W. Jurgens, 33, of 6324 Benton, was not hurt. He pleaded no contest to a charge of reckless driving later in the day in Municipal Court in connection with the accident and was fined $35.

'Sputnik' Means Travel Companion

By The Associated Press

The suddenly popular word Sputnik means traveling companion. In Russian-to-English phonetics it is pronounced spoot'-neek (accenting first syllable).

In the Soviet Union it is applied to a satellite in the field of astronomy (rather than in the Western sense describing a satellite as an aspect of Iron Curtain politics).

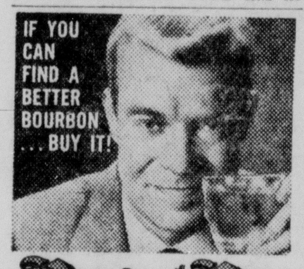

In the Soviet definition thus the moon (the one that goes with June in Tin Pan Alley songs) is a Sputnik of the earth.

The word is standard, and not newly coined.

2-State Air Tour 'Success'

The Nebraska-Wyoming air tour completed this week was termed a "huge success" by State Aeronautics Director Rolland Harr.

Around 100 aircraft, including seven twin-engine planes, and 129 aviation enthusiasts took part, he reported, and the tour was free of accidents or incidents.

The tour began Tuesday, Oct. 1, at York, and ended Monday of this week at Estes Park in Colorado.

Nebraska points visited included Broken Bow, Gothenburg, Ogallala, and Scottsbluff.

In addition to fliers from Nebraska, Wyoming and Colorado, participants included residents of South Dakota, California, Texas, Kansas, Missouri and Iowa, Harr said.

The annual tours are designed to promote private aviation, give citizen fliers an aerial holiday and generally to stimulate aviation interest.

Sponsors of the 1957 tour were the Nebraska Aeronautics Department, Nebraska Aviation Trades Assn., Nebraska Flying Farmers and Ranchers, Missouri Valley Chapter 99's, Wyoming Aeronautics Commission, Wyoming Flying Farmers Assn., and Wyoming Aviation Trades Assn.

Red 'Moon' Jolts Europe Toward U.S.

. . . After Formerly Critical Press Has Second Thought

PARIS (AP)—The Soviet earth satellite has jolted the press of Western Europe from its orbit of assailing U.S. policy. After long second thought, these newspapers once more are looking to Washington.

The criticism of segregation troubles in Little Rock and the editorial hangover from the U.S. policy of supporting Egypt in the Suez crisis have been eclipsed by the man-made moon.

The German press predicted the United States soon will overtake the Soviet Union in the fields of satellites and guided missiles.

Pooling Of Brains

The British press urged a pooling of Western brains and know-how to meet the Soviet challenge. Italian newspapers took a similar stand.

Even the French press, only lately accusing the United States of betraying France in Algeria, appeared to feel that criticizing the U.S. now is a dangerous luxury.

Thus Thierry Maulnier, a writer who has been particularly sour on U.S. policy in Algeria, says in Le Figaro:

Pots, Pans, Shoes

"It should not be said that the baby moon could be launched 'although' the Soviet people lack pots and pans and shoes but 'because' they lack them. Only the United States can do everything at the same time."

In London, the Daily Telegraph said the Russian people go "from peasants to spacemen without ever tasting the joys this earth can offer. For the West to regard this demonstration of technical achievement as a defeat is to accept the standards of the enemy."

'Surprising'

In Germany, Essen's Westdeutsche Allgemeine said: "What is surprising is that it was the Soviets, rather than the Americans, who succeeded in thrusting forward into interstellar space. This surprise should make us realize there is no nation and no race which is superior to another."

U.S. Abolishes Fingerprinting For Most Foreign Visitors

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Thursday abolished, with some few exceptions, its requirements that all visitors from abroad be subjected to fingerprinting.

Secretary of State Dulles and Atty. Gen. Brownell, acting on authority given them by Congress a month ago, swept aside the practice of 15 years' standing.

They ruled that most foreigners visiting the United States for a year or less can be given visas without first submitting to fingerprintng.

To Meet Protests

The move seemed clearly aimed at meeting protests from such countries as Russia which have denounced fingerprinting as a device to discourage visitors to the United States.

Soviet Communist Chief Nikita Khrushchev has contended fingerprinting should be reserved for criminals. As long as the requirement remained, he said, Russians would refuse to visit the United States except under official passports which did not require fingerprinting.

The State Department said fingerprints still may be required of visitors who arrive without visas of any kind.

Visa requirements remain unchanged, with each American consul overseas having the right to refuse entry permission to persons advocating overthrow of the American government by force.

STOCKS SUFFER SHARP BREAK

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market suffered its sharpest break in two years Thursday, erasing almost five billion dollars in quoted values of stocks.

Brokers generally put the blame on the bearish outlook in business, including reports of layoffs and cutbacks, and the ominous picture in the Middle East.

Rocket To Go 4,000 Miles Up 'Within Week'

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Dr. Wiley Ley, New York rocket expert, told the Beacon in a telephone interview Thursday that the Army plans to fire a rocket to 4,000 miles above a Pacific atoll within a week.

The firing, he said, is a step in the development of project "Farside," which is designed to circle a rocket around the moon within two years.

The current firing is not designed to launch a satellite.

Asked to comment on the Russian earth satellite, Dr. Ley said it was "a scientific achievement comparable to the first atom bomb."

'Methodist Churches Fall Short Of Ideals'

. . . NWU Willson Lecturer Says

"The Methodist Church of America, and I strongly suspect, the Methodist Church elsewhere, would come far short of (John) Wesley's ideas and ideals," Dr. Umphrey Lee said Thursday in his final Willson Lecture at Nebraska Wesleyan University.

"They are either too secular or too much like the Dissenters whom he (Wesley) frequently liked personally but disliked as groups."

Speaking on "The Nature of Methodism," Dr. Lee said the classifying of religious groups and movements is one of the occupational diseases of theologians and historians.

"This is an entirely legitimate effort," the Methodist educator, historian and theologian said, "but it offers a full share of the difficulties which beset every endeavor to classify human beings."

Difficult To Understand

"In the first place it is hard for a theologically-minded writer to see just what touches off certain practical movements. On the other side, practically-minded men have dificulty in grasping the convolutions of theological thought when it tries to grapple with the problems of sin and redemption and the nature of God and Man."

"In dealing with the Wesleyan movement, it is not usually realized that John Wesley's work is complicated by several factors."

"The result is," Dr. Lee concluded, "that historians and other commentators on Methodism frequently turn up with some strange doctrines which they are convinced are authentically Methodist."

1 PARDON, 6 PAROLES GIVEN REFORMATORY INMATES

The State Board of Pardons and Paroles Thursday granted one full pardon, six paroles and deferred action on one case in eight pleas for clemency heard at the Nebraska Men's Reformatory.

Included among the parolees were three teen-age boys serving sentences at the Reformatory after escaping custody from the Boys Training School at Kearney.

Don J. McNeill, 17, of Hastings, and James H. Johnson, 18, of Grand Island, had been sentenced to one to two years in the Reformatory following an escape attempt in November, 1956.

The third youth, Harold Simmons, 17, of California, had received a one to four year term for auto theft after escaping from Kearney also in November of last year.

The complete action of the Board:

Edward J. Flood, 23, of Alliance, breaking and entering, two to five years from Box Butte Co., 1956, paroled.

Harold Simmons, 17, of California, auto theft, one to four years from Buffalo Co., 1956, paroled.

James H. Johnson, 18, of Grand Island, breaking custody, one to two years from Buffalo Co., 1956, paroled.

Don J. McNeill, 17, of Hastings, breaking custody, one to two years from Buffalo, Co., 1956, paroled.

James Sartain, 21, of Plane, Tex., forgery and violation of bench parole, one to three years from Cheyenne Co., 1956, paroled.

Carl E. Rutt, 27, of Lincoln, burglary and violation of bench parole, one to three years from Lancaster Co., 1956, paroled.

Lonnie D. Anderson, 22, of Alma, malicious destruction of property, one to two years from Phelps Co., 1956, deferred.

Chester Johnson, 30, of Sidney, breaking and entering, one year from Brown Co., served from March 1, 1945, to Nov. 21, 1945, granted a full pardon.

Grange Suggests Soil Bank Program With Higher Price Supports, Retiring 15 Per Cent Of Land

A new program aimed at retiring 15 per cent of the nation's crop land from production was recommended by the Nebraska State Grange in a windup Thursday of its three-day meeting in Lincoln.

The Grange resolved there should be a workable and realistic soil bank program or no farm program at all.

Under the plan, if a vote of the farmers approved, every producer would be required to put 15 per cent of his land into a soil bank on a historically-fair basis.

No soil bank payments would be made, but price supports would be increased to full parity for all crops, according to the resolution.

Acreage Reduction

The Grange said proposed acreage reduction would bring supply into balance with demand and would eliminate continued government ownership and storage of grain.

Soil bank acres would be seeded to grass or trees at the farmer's expense as a conservation measure or turned to legumes "to really build a soil bank."

If the farmers should reject a compulsory soil bank program, the Grange said the whole farm program should be junked in favor of a free market and unlimited production.

However, the free market program would contain a domestic parity system for large exports such as cotton, wheat, rice and tobacco as favored by the National Grange.

In Harmony

State Grange Master G. A. Spidel said the Nebraska-proposed soil idling program and the national view on a freer market are "in harmony" with each other.

Also proposed was a policy meeting for all farm organizations to work out a farm program acceptable to all.

The resolution noted there is a possibility of all farm programs being lost because of an inability of farm organizations to agree on one farm policy.

The Grange's soil idling program would permit returning of acres to production during national emergencies.

In closing business, the Grange voted to hold its 1958 meeting in Lincoln on Oct. 7-8-9.

Consolidation Favored

Resolutions adopted on education opposed any increase in the scope of federal aid and favored voluntary consolidation of schools. It opposed compulsory redistricting by township or county units.

Also favored were compulsory study of English, mathematics and science to meet college-entry requirements and continued building levy funds for the Milford Trade School.

Opposed was the proposed requirement for all schools to be in K-12 districts

A resolution by the transportation committee favoring requiring the federal government to pay all costs of construction and maintenance of the interstate highway system was adopted.

The position was opposed to the present 90-10 matching fund program for construction and maintenance by state funds.

Efficient Use

Another resolution recommended that the State Highway Department make more efficient use of highway funds and that state appointive officers refrain from "lobbying" on favored legislation.

Indications were the lobbying resolution was aimed at the state engineer.

Resolutions for national legislation recommended:

1. Amendments to apply antitrust legislation equally and uniformly to all individuals and corporations.
2. Legislation prohibiting the compulsory union shop and enacting a national "right-to-work" law.
3. Legislation prohibiting secondary boycotts by unions.

Democrats' Dollar Drive Starts Today

The Dollars for Democrats drive will be held Friday and Saturday and state chairman Willard Townsend predicted much success for Lancaster County.

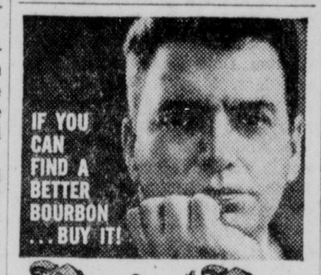

"The Lancaster County organization, under the direction of A. Clifford Anderson, made an outstanding success of the drive last year," Townsend said, "and is expected to do well this year."

Townsend said that county chairmen will conduct solicitations in 71 of the state's 93 counties. The funds are in support of both the county organizations and national committee.

Solicitors will be identified and give donors receipts, Townsend explained.

County Chairman Anderson said that there will not be as many solicitors this year as there were last year and persons who are not contacted may mail donations to L. W. Bartzat at 2033 Calvert.

"Last year's first campaign was very successful," he said.

Mrs. Luginbill Dies At Age 54

Mrs. Charles T. Luginbill, 54, of 2230 West O, a life-time resident of Lincoln, died Thursday.

She was a member of the Lakeview Methodist Church, Women's Society of Christian Service, the West O Woman's Club and the Welfare Auxiliary.

Surviving are her husband; two daughters, Mrs. Lavaine Carter of Tecumseh and Mrs. Joyce Buck of Lincoln; parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Berry of Lincoln; a brother, Audrey A. Berry of Lincoln; and five grandchildren.

Both Fined

WORMLEY, England (AP)—Truck-driver William Canning and his wife Pamela were fined $70 each for drunken driving in the same vehicle.

Police told the court Mrs. Canning, 34, was arrested after a collision with an automobile. Her husband, 37, was found asleep in a nearby field.

He said he was too drunk to drive but didn't dream his wife would speed off in the truck—because she never tried to drive anything before.

days of auld lang syne

Any member of the masculine sex will tell you that the bridegroom plays the role of the forgotten man preceding a wedding. But such was not the case with bridegroom-elect Dr. Wieland. On Thursday evening a group of his friends rallied to the cause and were on hand for a stag dinner which was held at the Italian Village and at which Dr. Wieland bade farewell to his bachelor days and was welcomed with open arms by all of the benedicts present.

Wedding bells will be rining on Saturday evening for Miss Lynn Holland and Dr. Richard Wieland and in view of the coming event each was honored on Thursday evening—Miss Holland at a "loving cup" party, Dr. Wieland at the age-old stag dinner.

The passing of the loving cup in celebration of a forthcoming marriage was begun in 1954 among a group of 12 young ladies, who are former Lincoln High School classmates and long time friends.

The inscriptions on the loving cup read: Bobbie (Russel) and Dick (Spangler) 2-12-55; Barb (Hoff) and Joe (Gordon) 8-29-54; Mimi (DuTeau) and Andy (Bunten) 6-16-55; Cynthia (Johnson) and Keith (Britton) 8-24-55; Nancy (Chamberlin) and Bill (Weir) 9-3-55; Judy (Flansburg) and Bob (Burton) 12-17-55; Phyllis (Colbert) and Charlie (Hunley) 12-27-55; Mary Belle (Baldwin) and Owen (Beach) 12-18-54; Agnes (Anderson) and Duffy (Olson) 2-4-56; Nancy (Hemphill) and Bob (Dawson) 6-10-56, and Micky (Walt) and Bill (Seiboldt) 12-1-56. The two remaining names to be added are those of Miss Holland and Miss Barbara Turner.

Last night's dinner and festivities were held at the University Club and pictured holding the loving cup (clockwise from lefthand corner) are Mrs. Arden Means, Mrs. William Shainholtz, Mrs. David Olson, Miss Barbara Turner, Miss Holland, Mrs. Joseph Gordon, Mrs. William Seiboldt, Mrs. Richard Spangler, Jr., Mrs. Robert Burton, Mrs. O. E. Beach, and Mrs. Charles Hunley.

Town Talk

JUST a skip and a jump—and mostly skip this ayem—But we'll crowd in as much news as possible—You'll want to know that the Revelers Dancing Club has its party schedule planned for the year—and that its season begins on Oct. 18 with a dinner dance in what the committee fetchingly calls the "Kiss Room" at Hotel Cornhusker—There are to be three more parties during the season—Dec. 13, March 1, and May 24.

The committee for the forthcoming party includes Mr. and Mrs. James Swanson, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Ross Martin, Dr. and Mrs. James Weesner, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Forke, Mr. and Mrs. John Brickson, Mr. and Mrs. Reese Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Silverman, Mr. and Mrs. George McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patterson and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Duling.

* * *

NEW neighbors in Lincoln are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph King and their four children, Stephen, Anthony, Peter and Mary, who recently moved from Hastings and who, at the moment, are residing at 3045 Cable.

Mrs. King will be remembered as the former Susan Peterson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John C. Peterson, and Kappa Alpha Theta at Nebraska.

To Be October Bride

MISS CORA KNOTT

Of especial interest this morning is the announcement made by Mrs. Claude B. R. Knott of the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Cora Lillian, to William W. Putney.

The wedding will take place on Wednesday, Oct. 23, and the ceremony will be solemnized at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the Scottish Rite Temple, where the bride-elect has served as associate secretary for the past 25 years.

Miss Knott attended the University of Nebraska and is a charter member and past president of Kappa chapter, Beta Sigma Phi; past president of Xi Beta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Exemplar, and has served as president of the Lincoln City Council of Beta Sigma Phi International. Miss Knott has been active in civic and professional groups and was a member of the original committee for the organization of a Cerebral Palsey Foundation.

Mr. Putney is president of the Midwest Life Insurance Co.

Bride On Thursday

MRS. WILLIAM DALE BLUE

Pedestal arrangements of large bronze chrysanthemums and pompons, and clusters of lighted white candles against a background of woodwardia formed the chancel decor in the First Presbyterian Church Thursday evening, Oct. 10, for the wedding of Miss Mary Elizabeth Kinsinger, daughter of Mrs. James W. Kinsinger and the late Mr. Kinsinger, and William Dale Blue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max J. Blue of San Antonio, Tex. The 8 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by Dr. C. Vin White, and the wedding music was played by Miss Grace Finch, organist, who also accompanied the vocal soloist, Oscar Bennett.

Wearing identically-styled frocks of satin in shaded green were Miss Jane Deppen of Denver, Colo., as the maid of honor; Mrs. Robert L. Mastin, Kenesaw, the bridesmatron; and Miss Colleen Farrell, the bridesmaid. Fashioned on princess lines with full, waltz-length skirts, their costumes were accented at the back by long-streamered bows in deeper green, matching their satin accessories, and cascade bouquets of bronze, Fiji chrysanthemums completed their ensembles.

Gerald A. Roberts, Jr., of Tulsa, Okla., served Mr. Blue as best man, and seating the guests were Robert Bosley, Hayes Center; Thomas J. Gorham, Paul L. Douglas, Donald J. Mathes and Thomas S. Nickerson.

Traditional white satin touched with imported French lace was chosen by the bride for her wedding gown. The sculptured bodice of satin was overlaid with the lace to form the gently scalloped Sabrina neckline and the long, tapered sleeves. The circular skirt flared into extreme width at the hem and extended into a cathedral train below the butterfly bustle-bow of satin. Her veil of silk illusion was held by a shell cap of lace and tulle sprinkled with pearls, and she carried a cascade of stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

For their wedding trip, after which the couple will reside at 1320 So. 49th, Mrs. Blue wore a silk and wool tweed ensemble in the topaz shade with brown accessories.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska, the bride is a member of Pi Beta Phi. Mr. Blue is a graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Law.

Pledge Class

Alumnae members of Alpha Xi Delta sorority will entertain in honor of the chapter's new pledges on Sunday evening when they are hostesses at a 6 o'clock buffet supper at Hillcrest Country Club. An informal get-acquainted program will follow.

SOUTH HILLS

Witches and goblins are just around the corner waiting to spoof the youngsters on Halloween, but when they make their appearance in the South Hills area they might get a little spoofin' themselves! Seems that a group of Cub Scouts — Den 4, Pack 63 — already has concocted masks and noise-makers for the children's holiday. Such projects were well underway when the boys met with their Den Mothers and assistants, Mrs. Laurence Ross, Mrs. Lawrence Thompson and Mrs. Byron Ooten, at the Ross home on Wednesday afternoon. The Scouts include Danny Ross, David Thompson, Jack Hornby, Gary Park, Michael Allgeier and Stephen Ooten.

'Twas cofee time last Thursday morning for some of the distaff side in South Hills who were entertained at the home of Mrs. Jerry Raney. Joining in the neighborhood party were Mrs. Harry Gaylor, Mrs. John Weaver, Mrs. Don Donceel, Mrs. George Brannon, Mrs. Byron Blackmore, Mrs. John Anton, Mrs. Harold Streumpler, Mrs. George Maser, Mrs. Don Pierson, Mrs. Holger Overgaard and Mrs. Robert Pearson.

D., took place on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 6, at the First Congregational Church in Crete. Tall arrangements of white daisies and chrysanthemums decorated the candle-lighted chancel for the service, which was read by Dr. J. F. Balzer, and Mrs. Jesse Hawks of Crete, organist, played the wedding music. The vocal soloist was Miss Marilyn McIlnay of Crete.

As her sister's maid of honor, Miss Bonnie Sieck wore a ballerina frock of seagreen crystallette accented by a bustle bow. She wore a small cap of frock material and carried a colonial nosegay of pink carnations. Wearing identical costumes were the bridesmaids, Miss Nita Plourd and Miss Catherine O'Grady, both of Lincoln.

Miss Dorothy Jean Miller of Lincoln, and Hugh H. Sieck, Jr., Crete, brother of the bride, lighted the candles.

The bride appeared in a gown of white Chantilly lace and bridal tulle over satin. The long-sleeved bodice of lace was patterned with iridescent sequins, and soft folds framed the drop-shoulder decolletage. The floor-length skirt of tulle-over-satin was caught into fullness beneath scalloped panniers of the lace, and a queen's coronet of pearls and tulle held her illusion veil. She carried a crescent of white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Erickson will reside at 1721 So. 12th in Lincoln, where the bridegroom is attending the University of Nebraska. Mrs. Erickson is a graduate of St. Elizabeth Hospital School of Nursing.

Any member of the masculine sex will tell you that the bridegroom plays the role of the forgotten man preceding a wedding. But such was not the case with bridegroom-elect Dr. Wieland. On Thursday evening a group of his friends rallied to the cause and were on hand for a stag dinner which was held at the Italian Village and at which Dr. Wieland bade farewell to his bachelor days and was welcomed with open arms by all of the benedicts present.

Wedding bells will be rining on Saturday evening for Miss Lynn Holland and Dr. Richard Wieland and in view of the coming event each was honored on Thursday evening—Miss Holland at a "loving cup" party, Dr. Wieland at the age-old stag dinner.

The passing of the loving cup in celebration of a forthcoming marriage was begun in 1954 among a group of 12 young ladies, who are former Lincoln High School classmates and long time friends.

The inscriptions on the loving cup read: Bobbie (Russel) and Dick (Spangler) 2-12-55; Barb (Hoff) and Joe (Gordon) 8-29-54; Mimi (DuTeau) and Andy (Bunten) 6-16-55; Cynthia (Johnson) and Keith (Britton) 8-24-55; Nancy (Chamberlin) and Bill (Weir) 9-3-55; Judy (Flansburg) and Bob (Burton) 12-17-55; Phyllis (Colbert) and Charlie (Hunley) 12-27-55; Mary Belle (Baldwin) and Owen (Beach) 12-18-54; Agnes (Anderson) and Duffy (Olson) 2-4-56; Nancy (Hemphill) and Bob (Dawson) 6-10-56, and Micky (Walt) and Bill (Seiboldt) 12-1-56. The two remaining names to be added are those of Miss Holland and Miss Barbara Turner.

Last night's dinner and festivities were held at the University Club and pictured holding the loving cup (clockwise from lefthand corner) are Mrs. Arden Means, Mrs. William Shainholtz, Mrs. David Olson, Miss Barbara Turner, Miss Holland, Mrs. Joseph Gordon, Mrs. William Seiboldt, Mrs. Richard Spangler, Jr., Mrs. Robert Burton, Mrs. O. E. Beach, and Mrs. Charles Hunley.

Pedestal arrangements of large bronze chrysanthemums and pompons, and clusters of lighted white candles against a background of woodwardia formed the chancel decor in the First Presbyterian Church Thursday evening, Oct. 10, for the wedding of Miss Mary Elizabeth Kinsinger, daughter of Mrs. James W. Kinsinger and the late Mr. Kinsinger, and William Dale Blue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max J. Blue of San Antonio, Tex. The 8 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by Dr. C. Vin White, and the wedding music was played by Miss Grace Finch, organist, who also accompanied the vocal soloist, Oscar Bennett.

Wearing identically-styled frocks of satin in shaded green were Miss Jane Deppen of Denver, Colo., as the maid of honor; Mrs. Robert L. Mastin, Kenesaw, the bridesmatron; and Miss Colleen Farrell, the bridesmaid. Fashioned on princess lines with full, waltz-length skirts, their costumes were accented at the back by long-streamered bows in deeper green, matching their satin accessories, and cascade bouquets of bronze, Fiji chrysanthemums completed their ensembles.

Gerald A. Roberts, Jr., of Tulsa, Okla., served Mr. Blue as best man, and seating the guests were Robert Bosley, Hayes Center; Thomas J. Gorham, Paul L. Douglas, Donald J. Mathes and Thomas S. Nickerson.

Traditional white satin touched with imported French lace was chosen by the bride for her wedding gown. The sculptured bodice of satin was overlaid with the lace to form the gently scalloped Sabrina neckline and the long, tapered sleeves. The circular skirt flared into extreme width at the hem and extended into a cathedral train below the butterfly bustle-bow of satin. Her veil of silk illusion was held by a shell cap of lace and tulle sprinkled with pearls, and she carried a cascade of stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

For their wedding trip, after which the couple will reside at 1320 So. 49th, Mrs. Blue wore a silk and wool tweed ensemble in the topaz shade with brown accessories.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska, the bride is a member of Pi Beta Phi. Mr. Blue is a graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Law.

Scientists Say:

Fireball Is Meteorite, Not A Satellite Part

DENVER (AP) — A brilliant ball of fire described as large as a house blazed across western skies in the predawn darkness Thursday. It whizzed so close to a Navy plane carrying 39 persons that the pilot had to make a sharp turn to avoid a collision.

Scientists said they are sure the flaming object was a meteorite and had no connection with the Russian satellite launched last week.

The Navy transport plane pilot, Lt. Cmdr. W. F. Norris, said after seeing the fireball, he circled over it and saw it crash in rugged country near the Colorado-Utah border.

Headquarters of the North American Air Defense Command at Colorado Springs said fliers will search the area.

Airplane pilots and night toilers all the way from North Dakota to Utah told of seeing the flaming sky wanderer illuminating the heavens.

Some said it gave off a greenish light, others said the light was a brilliant bluish-white with yellow flaming from the object's tail. But all agreed the light was vividly bright. Some reported hearing sounds like explosions from the fireball.

Two authorities on meteors, Dr. Harvey Nininger of Sedona, Ariz., and Dr. Lincoln La Paz, said they were sure the fireball was a meteorite.

Dr. La Paz, with the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque, said the blazing ball probably was from the Giacobinid comet. He said if the Russian satellite falls intact, it will glow a cherry red.

Grain Firm To Get New Car Unloader

A $20,000 railroad car dumper will be built beside Equity Union Grain Co. elevators at 940 Calvert, according to Robert A. Puelz, company president.

The dumper, having an eight-car-per-hour unloading capacity, is expected to be completed by June 1, 1958. At the present time the company unloads cars with mechanical shovels.

Ike Breakfast 'Makes Up' For Incident

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower smoothed over an international incident Thursday with a breakfast of bacon and eggs.

His guest at the White House meal was K. A. Gbedemah, who was refused service at a Dover, Del., restaurant because he is a Negro.

Gbedemah, finance minister to Ghana, the new African Negro republic, told reporters after having breakfast with Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon:

"The President expressed personal apologies over all that was done in Delaware."

'Makes Up For It'

Gbedemah added Eisenhower was "a little worried" about the snub but the invitation to breakfast "makes up for what happened" in Delaware.

Gbedemah's personal secretary, Bill Sutherland, told newsmen Howard Johnson, owner of the restaurant chain—the Dover restaurant was operating under a Howard Johnson franchise—had called personally on Gbedemah at his New York hotel and apologized for the incident.

Vic Asks Navy Head To Keep Base In Mind

A request that the Navy "keep Lincoln in mind" for any further use of the Lincoln Naval Air Station facilities was sent to Secretary of the Navy Thomas Gates Thursday by Gov. Victor Anderson.

The governor said he hoped the Navy could find some use for the "fine hangar and office space" which will be available when the NAS is closed down early next year.

Anderson said he had visited with Gates about this when he was in Washington recently in an effort to retain the naval air reserve unit at Lincoln.

The governor said Gates told him at that time that he would do everything he could on the matter.

The Navy announced Monday that Lincoln was one of five installations it was closing down as the result of an economy drive.

Moving Firms To Meet In Lincoln This Week End

Officials of major moving and warehousing companies in a six-state area will map plans for the 1958 moving season at the annual Midwestern District meeting of the Mayflower Warehouseman's Association at the Cornhusker Hotel, Lincoln, Oct. 11-12.

One of the high points of the meeting will be the report by the association's Research and Development Committee, a report introducing new and improved techniques in the handling and transporting of household goods.

Another high point will be the showing of the new film, "The Mayflower Story," which documents the historic voyage of the Mayflower II, replica of the original Pilgrim ship.

Representing Aero Mayflower Transit Co. at the meeting will be John Sloan Smith, president; Fred J. Grumme, executive vice president and E. Henry Lamkin, vice president in charge of sales.

Jack C. Robbins of Denver, MWA vice president, will preside and Lloyd W. Beans, vice president of Sullivan Transfer and Storage Co., of Lincoln will serve as host for the two-day meeting.

New Tranquilizing Drug Praised Here

A relatively new tranquilizing drug, compazine, was cited for its lack of "side effects" as compared with older tranquilizers as neuropsychiatric hospital representatives met in Lincoln.

The doctors, representing five states at a Lincoln State Hospital meeting, heard the reports of eight doctors who have been experimenting with compazine the past year.

Dr. Frank L. Spradling, Lincoln State Hospital director, stated that, "from the experimenting done in the past year we think its an improvement." "It has no side effects and induces little drowsiness."

Dr. Spradling also noted that it was not a "world cure."

Professional Engineers Hear Dr. Chasson

Dr. Robert L. Chasson, chairman of the University of Nebraska department of physics, spoke on "The Significance of the Geophysical Year" Thursday night at a meeting of the Nebraska Society of Professional Engineers.

The highlight of Dr. Chasson's speech, which dealt mainly with the disciplines of scientific activity, was the showing of slides that the United States Natonal Committee for the Geophysical Year had especially prepared.

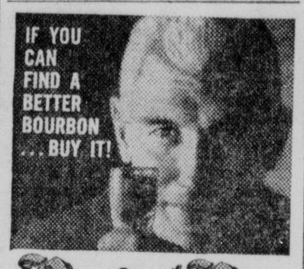

The meeting was held at the Lincoln Hotel.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS By Arthur 'Bugs' Baer

Once again the GOP stalks me at the precinct level for information and middle-age security.

It wants me to beat the drums and also bounce something in the tambourine.

It desires to know why their man got his come-uppance in Wisconsin. That's as simple as Simon's whaling expedition. Those Milwaukeeans can't make an X anywhere but on a scorecard.

The sixty-seven percent stay-home vote was terrific even for split-level garages. And you cannot make an X if teacher held out half the alphabet on you.

Braves Climb Last Pinnacle

Yanks Go Down Fighting

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK —(INS)—Destiny's darlings, the Milwaukee Braves, climbed the last hard mile to the pinnacle of baseball Thursday and dislodged the world champion New York Yankees as monarch of the great old game.

The National League champions, in their first crack at the title, beat the Yankees 5-0 in this the seventh and final game of an enthralling World Series.

Lew Burdette, the incomparable Braves' righthander, conquered the Yankees (for whom he once briefly worked) for the third time, giving them seven fruitless hits. It was the first time since 1920 that a starting pitcher had won three times during a series.

It was the great sinker-ball artist's second shutout, for he beat the American Leaguers 1-0 last Monday in Milwaukee. No man had won two in these autumnal classics since the immortal Christy Mathewson carved three such in 1905. The only other two-shutout winner was Bill Dinneen in the eight-game series between the Red Sox and Pittsburgh in 1903.

So this was stuff for history books and the nation's folklore.

The old kings went down throwing punches at their tormentor.

Hopelessly, haplessly behind since the Braves' gamewinning four-run third inning attack on starter Don Larsen and Bobby Shantz, the second of the five Yankee pitchers used, the Yanks reached the tiring Burdette for three singles in the ninth and filled the bases with two outs.

One can imagine the scenes at the Stadium, with 61,207 setting up an earsplitting mixture of shouts and growls which, translated, meant "Come on Yanks" and "Hold 'em Lew." The place was a stewing H-bomb.

Lew held 'em, but only with the aid of a tremendous fielding play by Eddie Mathews. Eddie pounced on the screaming grounder Moose Skowron slashed down the third baseline, came up with the ball, jumped on third base for the force out that ended the game—and leaped into Burdette's arms as players, fans and ushers met in a bonecrushing circle to celebrate.

These stirring events sizzled against a background of cracked and battered World Series records. The huge turnout Thursday had set a new series attendance record of 394,712, topping a 10-year old mark, and the $2,475,978.94 the seven games drew was also a record.

It is the first time since 1948 that a non-New York team rules the baseball world, and the Braves are the first western club to win since the Cards in 1946. The Yankees have now lost six times in 23 World Series, the American League 20 times in 54 years.

The Braves' third inning knocked the wind out of the game for an extensive period.

With one out in that inning, Hurricane Hazle punched a single to left off Larsen, the man whose perfect game in last year's series will be remembered as long as baseball is played. It was a wound from which the Yanks were destined not to recover.

Johnny Logan was the hitter, now. Yogi Berra nearly retired him on a pop fly back near the screen, but couldn't quite reach it. Reprieved, Logan promptly rolled to Tony Kubek at third. It was a doubleplay, sure as shooting.

But Kubek's throw to Jerry Coleman, to force Hazle, was so high that Coleman barely snagged it with a leap. Hazle slid under him, safe, and made it difficult for Coleman to wheel and throw to first. His throw was beaten by Logan, and instead of being safely out of the inning, Larsen now found two men on bases and one out.

And Eddie Mathews at the plate.

Mathews, at the crest of his career, exploded a jolting double to the corner in right, scoring Hazle from second and Logan all the way from first when Bauer's relay took a split second longer than usual.

Casey Stengel took Larsen out of there without consultation. He brought in Bobby Shantz, a little southpaw, even though the forbidding righthanded figure of Hank Aaron was at the plate. Aaron had hit safely in the second, (as he had hit safely in the previous six games), and now he methodically singled to center off Shantz to bring Mathews home with the third run.

Wes Covington's single over short enabled Aaron to streak from first to third, even though he tripped over second base. He scored the fourth Braves' run while Frank Torre was forcing Covington.

A great gloom fell on the stadium, last baseball "wheel" in New York.

Burdette with a 4-0 lead was as safe as a machine-gunner in a nursery.

There had been not even a Sputnik peep out of the Yankees since Hank Bauer led off with a double down the left field line—a hit that meant he now had batted safely in 14 straight series game, a record.

Tommy Byrne came on in the eighth to pitch for the Yanks. He walked Torre, but Felix Mantilla took the pressure off him by rolling into a double play. Then old Tommy threw a home run ball to Del Crandall. It landed in the seats in left, just out of the snapping grasp of Country Slaughter.

And so it was with the bleak handicap of five runs against them that the Yanks took up their clubs for the last times.

Bauer, Slaughter and Mickey Mantle were as nothing, to Burdette, in the Yankee eighth. Berra popped to open the Yanks' last stand in the ninth.

But now came the last gasp, the last great gesture of a team that isn't accustomed to defeat and wanted no part of the bitter cup. Gil McDougald, hitless all day, singled smartly to center, the fifth hit off Burdette. Kubek flied out, and Burdette was one man away from victory, his team one out removed from the lion's share of the $709,027 players' pool.

The intended "out" was Coleman, Marine fighter pilot in World War II and Korea. He had faced tougher situations than this, and now he singled to right, sending McDougald to second. Byrne, batting for himself, pounded a single to Mantilla's right, and the Yankees had filled the bases.

In the deafening clatter, Fred Haney, the Milwaukee manager, found himself sorely tempted to take Burdette out of the box. It was a hard moment in Haney's life. But when he did make up his mind he made it up on the side of the man who had given him a superb performance all day. He stayed with Burdette.

Skowron murdered the pitch he hit. It took keen professional understanding of how he can pull a ball to prompt Mathews to play him as close to the line as he did. The crack of ball against bat seemed almost simultaneous with the crack of the ball entering Mathews' glove. He pounced on third base and the ballgame, the baseball season, and an empire was dissolved.

Dancing In The Streets

Nurses' uniforms and campus sweaters intermingled in an impromptu hoedown on Wisconsin Avenue in Milwaukee Thursday as Milwaukeeans celebrated a newly-won world baseball championship. Joy Runs Wild In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Between 15,000 and 20,000 citizens of this self-styled baseball capital of the world screamed themselves hoarse Thursday night as the Milwaukee Braves brought home the world championship.

So dense was the mass of humanity surrounding Billy Mitchell Field where the Braves' chartered airliner landed that the players' 30-car caravan had difficulty making headway.

The airport crowd was only a small vanguard of hundreds of thousands waiting to add their voices to a tumultous welcome.

When Eddie Mathews stepped on third base in Yankee Stadium for the final out of the 1957 World Series, he also touched off the wildest celebration Milwaukee has seen since V-J Day.

The old city on the west shore of Lake Michigan which had been as quiet as a mouse while its million inhabitants sat indoors for two hours and 34 minutes with eyes and ears glued to radio and television sets, suddenly erupted at 1:35 p.m. Thursday with a piercing shriek of unbounded joy.

In short, Milwaukee lost no time in living up to its claim of being the "baseball capital of the world." Factory whistles blew! Church bells clanged! Men, women and children poured out of downtown buildings like marbles being dumped out of a bag. Streets were suddenly filled with automobiles, their horns blaring. Pedestrians overflowed the sidewalks and swarmed into the streets, stopping traffic at some spots.

"They did it!" shouted nearly everyone at once. "The Braves showed those Yankees who's bush." Perfect strangers pounded each other on the back or shook hands—or both.

Windows in office buildings along Wisconsin avenue were flung open as if some stranger power had released them simultaneously. Somebody started dumping torn bits of paper from one high window. Then the confetti shower spread rapidly all along the city's main street and throughout the business district. Within minutes, the sky was filled with paper. After the first supply ran out, nobody took the time to tear more paper into little pieces. Entire sheets, some legal size, were flung through open windows by the handful. It was caught up by the wind and swirled around the joyous scene, proclaiming the world that the Milwaukee Braves had beaten the mighty Yankees for baseball's most coveted prize.

Lew Burdette, the Braves' controversial man-in-motion, was now the man of the hour. The fidgety pitcher who shut out the Yankees for the second time to take his third victory of the Series was the toast of the city. "Lew's our boy," shouted customers of some of the taverns who rushed out into the sunshine to join the celebration, leaving half-filled glasses on the bar behind them.

The suddenness with which the celebration started was almost frightening. At 1:30 p.m., you could have shot a cannon down Wisconsin Avenue without hitting anybody. There was virtually no traffic; only the busses made their scheduled routes with nobody except the drivers inside. Sidewalks were deserted. An occasional policeman walked his appointed route. The only signs of life were found in front of television stores, where small handfuls of people were making the most of the situation by watching the game on a set in the window. Everybody else was indoors.

Then the game came to a sudden and dramatic end, with the bases full of Yankees who probably will spend the long winter evenings trying to figure out how to get a run off Burdette. That was the signal for a city whose populace had waited five long years to start letting off steam. The result was deafening. And it was still going on while the new world champions were flying back to their home base, to be welcomed by a grateful fandom.

"If you think this is something," one middle-aged woman said to her companion a few minutes after the celebration started, "wait 'til tonight when the team gets back."

Outbreak Of Flu Halts Prep Game

BRADSHAW, Neb.—Due to an outbreak of influenza among students in the Bradshaw High School, the Bradshaw-Beaver Crossing football game, originally scheduled for Friday afternoon, has been cancelled.

Kenneth Foster, superintendent of the Bradshaw schools, said about 30 students, or one-third of the high school enrollment, have been absent from school this week. The flu, the three-day variety, was described as mild.

SE, Seward Vie At Oval Tonight

GAMES TONIGHT

Seward ..... at Southeast (Oval), 7:30 p.m.
Lincoln High ..... at Scottsbluff
Northeast ..... at Hastings

By BOB McCOY
Star Sports Staff Writer

Three Capital City prep football teams will be trying to stage comebacks tonight in their fifth games of the season after a dismal showing a week ago.

Lincoln Southeast will play the lone home game, hosting Seward at the Oval, while Lincoln High is at Scottsbluff and Lincoln Northeast at Hastings.

Last week, all three of the clubs suffered setbacks, although coming close to victory.

Southeast, beaten by Norfolk last week for the first time this season, will try to make Seward the Knights' fourth victim.

Only fullback Larry Bluhm has shown much power for Seward in early season games and Southeast rates the favorite in this contest.

Lincoln High, who barely missed knocking Grand Island from the ranks of the undefeated last week, will play another unbeaten club in Scottsbluff.

The Bearcats have compiled a 4-0 slate while averaging better than 40 points per game and are a heavy favorite to cop the West Big 10 conference crown.

The Links played their best ball of the campaign in a losing cause against Grand Island and may be ready to pull off a big upset this week.

Scottsbluff hasn't won from the Lincoln High club since 1953.

Northeast will battle Hastings in what figures to be one of the closest prep games of the week. Both clubs own 2-2 records and will be trying to push up over the .500 mark.

Northeast lost by one touchdown to Beatrice last week while Hastings was whitewashed by Columbus. Each club has enjoyed hot and cold weeks and both of them are scheduled to be hot this week.

Pius X got this week's slate of games started off Thursday night in an encounter with Omaha Holy Name.

Few teams have had to face the likes of Pittsburgh in such poor physical condition as that of the University of Nebraska Cornhuskers.

It wasn't enough that injuries to key personnel cropped up all fall. The Huskers had to wrestle with the flu during the past few days and will enter the Pitt game not only as underdogs, but as weakened underdogs.

Last week's record was 28 right and 12 wrong for .700, making the season's mark 84-26 for .764.

This time it looks like:

Big Eight

Pittsburgh 27, Nebraska 0 . . . Panthers big and tough, Huskers smaller and flu-ridden.

Oklahoma 34, Texas 13 . . . Darrell Royal's Longhorns can't prevent No. 43, but they might shake Sooners off top spot.

Kansas 21, Iowa State 13 . . . Jayhawks may have winded themselves at Colorado. So don't sell Cyclones short.

Southern Methodist 14, Missouri 7 . . . Tigers getting tougher.

Colorado 26, Arizona 12 . . . Stunned Buffs get breather.

College of Pacific 13, Kansas State 6 . . . Wildcats unimpressive.

Oklahoma State 19, Tulsa 14 . . . May go either way.

Big Ten

Ohio State 18, Illinois 13 . . . Buckeyes coming.

Iowa 34, Indiana 7 . . . Pity the Hoosiers.

Michigan State 21, Michigan 20 . . . Don't bet this one.

Minnesota 14, Northwestern 6 . . . Wildcats have spunk, but Gophers have power.

Wisconsin 27, Purdue 19 . . . Where have those Badgers been hiding?

Fred Would Wed If Lew Could Cook

★ ★ ★

By FRED De LUCA

NEW YORK (INS) — "If Burdette could cook, I'd marry him."

That's how Milwaukee manager Fred Haney laughingly summed up the superlative pitching effort of righthander Lew Burdette, who had just won his third game of the 1957 World Series, a 5-0 shutout of the New York Yankees.

When someone asked the florid-faced Milwaukee pilot what he considered the "key play" of the game, Haney laughed again and declared:

"That's easy. In one word — Burdette."

Indeed, that's how everyone—Yankee and Brave alike — felt about the series in which Burdette became the first three-game winning pitcher since Harry Brecheen turned the trick in 1946.

Beaten Manager Casey Stengel, losing only his second classic in eight tries since 1949, was unstinting in his praise of the 31-year-old hurler who was born in Nitro, W. Va., but lives now in Sarasota, Fla.

"Burdette held us better for three games," said Casey, "than any pitcher I can remember. He deserves all the credit that he can be given."

Burdette, who ran his string of scoreless series innings to a near-record 24, accepted the wild acclaim of his teammates and owner Lou Perini with all the modesty he could muster:

"I was relieved when it was over," said the tall, crew-cut righty "I had a little trouble in the ninth but I had two outs, and pretty soon it was three.

"I threw sliders mostly at the righthanders and sinkers and screwballs to the lefthanders.

"I'm going home now to Sarasota and relax."

Sandage, Thomas, Senior Standouts, Lead Huskers On Pittsburgh Trip

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Doug Thomas and Gene Sandage were named Nebraska co-captains Thursday as Coach Bill Jennings announced his 36-man traveling squad for the trip to Pittsburgh.

The Huskers, who will meet Pitt as 17½-point underdogs Saturday, are slated to fly east by chartered airliner Friday morning following an early workout on their home field.

Thomas, a senior from Fairbury who was a standout last week in the win over Kansas State, is slated to play left halfback against the Panthers, but he has also been groomed to handle the quarterbacking.

Sandage, although hobbled by an injury, will get the right halfback call. He's a senior from Sioux City and played all but four plays against K-State.

While 36 players are scheduled to make the Pitt trip no less than six of them are doubtful participants, having fallen victim to injuries or the flu.

The questionables making the jaunt are ends Bill Hawkins and Ray Engel, guard Jerry Petersen, quarterback Harry Tolly and halfbacks Bennie Dillard and Larry Naviaux.

Staying home will be veterans Marlin Hilding, Mike Lee, Jerry Wheeler and first-year men Carroll Zaruba, Max Martz, Bill Tuning and Jim Moore.

Hilding had to return to Student Health Thursday with a reoccurance of the flu, while Martz—who had been groomed for either right halfback or end duty all week—became a new victim of the bug.

The traveling squad:

Fullbacks — Jerry Brown, George Cifra, Gene Haman.

Need Work

Jennings said he called the Friday morning practice "because we need to have the whole squad together at least once before a game."

Flu, injuries and exams have prevented the Husker head man from holding a single practice this week with all hands present.

"We're going to try to get something done Friday morning," he said. "We couldn't do that if we worked out at Pitt."

Maj. Frank E. Meritt, assistant director of athletics at the Air Force Academy in Denver, played tackle for the Army team in 1943.

OMAHA — The Pius X Thunderbolts spotted Omaha Holy Name one touchdown and then came roaring back to thrash the Ramblers 35-13 here Thursday night.

The home-standing Ramblers shot into a quick 7-0 lead in the first period, but Pius X retaliated with four touchdowns to win in a romp.

Pat Toohey went four yards on a quarterback sneak and Billy Decker added the extra point to stake the Ramblers to an early lead, but Joe McWilliams ran the kickoff back 60 yards to set up a Pius touchdown — the first of five.

Don Houser raced across from 17 yards out on the first play after McWilliams' electrifying dash and added the point to tie the count and then Pius X went to work.

The Thunderbolts added two more touchdowns in the second period — on a 45-yard pass play from McWilliams to Don Thompson and Pat Glenn's 25-yard gallop — to take a 21-7 lead at intermission.

The Pius club upped the count to 28-7 in the third period when McWilliams bucked over from the five before Holy Name could score again.

The two clubs traded touchdowns in the final period, with Dan Dagerman taking a 35-yard scoring pass from Toohey for the Holy Name tally and Mike Anderson racing 10 yards for the Pius counter.

The Thunderbolts completely dominated the contest with their powerful single-wing offense which ground out 305 yards rushing. Pius X was never forced to punt.

Toohey's passing, which accounted for 116 yards, was the only Holy Name threat.

The victory left Pius X's season mark at 3-1-1 while the loss dropped Holy Name to 2-3 for the campaign.

Pius X	7	14	7	7	—35
Holy Name	7	0	0	6	—13

Pius X scoring: Touchdowns — Don Houser (17, run), Don Thompson (45, pass from Joe McWilliams), Pat Glenn (25, run), McWilliams (5, run), Mike Anderson (10, run). PAT—Houser 3, Bill Neal, Thompson.

Holy Name scoring: Touchdowns—Pat Toohey (4, sneak), Dan Dagerman (35, pass from Toohey). PAT—Bill Decker.

Coaches Watch Flu Bulletins

Bug-Bitten Irish Face Kaydets

By JOHN CHANDLER
The Associated Press

Many college football coaches kept their eyes on infirmary bulletin boards today as the Asian flu bug sent players to bed and threatened to put several teams in low gear for this week's games.

While there were some cancellations of games, most major teams were reported ready to carry on —the most notable example being Notre Dame.

The Fighting Irish, with six regulars and two second stringers stricken, were to resume their ancient rivalry with Army Saturday at Philadelphia after a lapse of 10 years.

Three games in Pennsylvania between Lafayette and Deleware, Moravian and Juniata, and Clarion State Teachers and Brockport, N.Y., State Teachers were cancelled. Also cancelled was Beloit versus Illinois Normal.

Oklahoma, the nation's No. 1 team, reported its all-America halfback candidate Clendon Thomas was expected to see some action against Texas in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas. Thomas spent three days in bed this week. Coach Darrell Royal said most of the Texas team had the "sniffles" during the week, but he expected most of the players to be ready.

The major clash in the Big Ten Conference brings together Michigan State and Michigan, ranked No. 2 and No. 6 this week. In other games to be watched with interest by the experts, Duke No. 5 meets Rice No. 15 in a night contest, Arkansas No. 11 plays Baylor, Navy hopes to regain some lost prestige against California and play an important Pacific Coast conference game.

The Friday night schedule is headed by North Carolina, winner over Navy, at the Orange Bowl against Miami. Others include Missouri and Southern Methodist, Georgia and Tulane, The Citadel and Wofford, and George Washington (reporting flu cases) versus the Air Force Academy.

Three regional TV games will be aired by NBC, all starting at 2 p.m. local time—Army and Notre Dame in the East, Ohio State and Illinois at Columbus, and UCLA vs Washington at Los Angeles.

The Atlantic Coast Conference and the Big Eight Conference also have regional TV networks. The AAC will televise Wake Forest-Maryland and the Big Eight Iowa State-Kansas.

Terry Brennan, Notre Dame coach, said his team was "hurt badly" by illness. "There is no likelihood that we will be in top shape for Army although all of the men who are down with the flu now probably will make the trip."

Influenza or respiratory infections hit players at the University of Colorado, Brandeis, Montclair, N. J., State Teachers, and Rutgers Officials at Brandeis, Waltham, Mass., closed the school. Brandeis with five players ill, is scheduled to meet Rhode Island.

Rutgers is scheduled to meet Colgate at Hamilton, N. Y., and the New Britain, Conn., State Teachers are scheduled to play at Montclair.

Harvard coach John Yovicsin nursed the flu, but none of the players, who go against Ohio U., were affected.

Other Saturday games:

EAST—Boston College vs. Dayton, Boston U. vs. West Virginia, Dartmouth vs. Brown, Carnegie Tech vs. Bucknell, Yale vs. Columbia, Syracuse vs. Cornell Lehigh vs. Gettysburg, Princeton vs. Pennsylvania, William and Mary vs. Penn State.

MIDWEST—Xavier vs. Cincinnati, Wichita vs. Detroit, Iowa vs. Indiana, Holy Cross vs. Marquette, Northwestern vs. Minnesota, Tulsa vs. Oklahoma State, Wisconsin vs. Purdue.

SOUTH—VPI vs. Villanova, Kentucky vs. Auburn, Tennessee vs. Chatanooga, Virginia vs. Clemson, VMI vs. Davidson, North Carolina State vs. Florida State, South Carolina vs. Furman, Louisiana State vs. Georgia Tech, Vanderbilt vs. Mississippi, Arkansas State vs. Mississippi State.

SOUTHWEST — Hardin-Simmons vs. Arizona State, Houston vs. Texas A&M, Alabama vs. Texas Christian, Texas Western vs. Texas Tech.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN — Colorado vs. Arizona, Utah vs. Brigham Young, Wyoming vs. Colorado State, Montana vs. Denver, Montana State vs. North Dakota State, Utah State vs. New Mexico.

FAR WEST — Oregon State vs. Idaho, Oregon vs. San Jose State, Kansas State vs. Pacific.

Notre Dame football coach Terry Brennan began the 1957 season with a three-year coaching record of 19 victories and 11 setbacks.

Hand For The Winner

New York manager Casey Stengel had a pat on the head for Manager Fred Haney during a visit to the Braves' dressing room only minutes after the Braves had won the 1957 World Series by copping the final game, 5-0. Hockey Players File Suit Against Owners

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Hockey League Players' Assn. Thursday filed a three million dollar anti-trust suit in Federal Court against the National Hockey League, Madison Square Garden, five other organizations and seven individuals.

The complaint named six clubs which the Players Assn. said operate and control the New York Rangers, Chicago Black Hawks, Boston Bruins, Detroit Red Wings, Montreal Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs. The six teams make up the National Hockey League, the major league of the ice sport.

In addition to the Garden and the league the other defendants include the Boston Professional Hockey Assn., Inc.; Chicago National Hockey Team, Inc.; Detroit Hockey Club Inc.; Club de Hockey Canadiens Inc.; Maple Leaf Gardens, Ltd.; Walter A. Brown (Boston); James D. Norris (Chicago); Bruce Norris (Detroit); John Reed Kilpatrick (New York); Conn Smythe (Toronto); Frank J. Selke (Montreal) and Clarence S. Campbell, president of the NHL.

The complaint charged that since 1926 the defendants have "monopolized and obtained complete domination and control and dictatorship" of the professional hockey industry in New York, New England, Michigan, Illinois, and the provinces of Quebec and Ontario, Canada.

The alleged "dictatorship" extended into the hiring, firing, trading and buying and selling of all players and coaches and former players and coaches as well as the teams of their employment in the United States and Canada, the complaint said.

The Players Assn., headed by Ted Lindsay of the Chicago Black Hawks, had threatened several weeks ago to take legal steps against the NHL when the league declined to negotiate on the players demand for pension and television benefits.

Sunset Friday: 5:53
Sunrise Saturday: 6:35
Sunset Saturday: 5:52

Legal shooting hours: Waterfowl—one-half hour before sunrise to sunset; deer—30 minutes before sunrise to 30 minutes before sunset.

Sunrise and sunset hours are computed from Lincoln. Time applies to shooting at any point in Nebraska that is due north or due south of Lincoln. Since sun time changes approximately one minute for each 13 miles in Nebraska, east to west, add one minute for each 13 miles west of Lincoln and subtract one minute for each 13 miles east.

Hunt To Replace Pacific Coast League Cities Disappointing To Loop President

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A search for cities to replace San Francisco, Los Angeles and Hollywood in the Pacific Coast Baseball League has been disappointing.

PCL President Leslie O'Connor said Thursday, "All my hopes lie in the direction of it being possible to realign the league for AAA baseball, but I haven't found much to justify my hopes."

O'Connor has made a tour checking cities for possible PCL franchises. He said he found just one he felt satisfactory. He declined to name the city.

The PCL president made it clear again that "just compensation" will be sought from the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers, the teams moving into San Francisco and Los Angeles respectively.

Formal action on a future course for the PCL can be expected at a league meeting, probably Nov. 1 or 2. O'Connor said he would recommend those dates for the League's annual meeting.

"Our object is AAA class baseball, but personally I see very great difficulties in the way of achieving it," O'Connor said.

He reported receipt of a feeler from Mayor Adiel F. Stewart of Salt Lake City, and a telegram from Rep. John J. Rhodes (R-Ariz) in behalf of Phoenix as possible PCL cities. Salt Lake City belongs to the Pioneer League and Phoenix to the Arizona-Mexico loop.

Asked about Spokane and Tacoma, Wash., and Victoria, B.C., which do not have organized baseball, O'Connor said all had been considered but not very favorably.

In addition to the three cities which definitely will be lost to the PCL, San Diego and Sacramento also are jeopardized because of their closeness to the new major league cities.

"It would be a hardship for them to operate," said O'Connor, "but what they do is up to the club owners. They certainly know their conditions better than anybody else."

Fred David, president of the Sacramento Solons, has declared, "It's obvious that if they (Giants and Dodgers) pay the proper indemnity and they draft the territory that there'd be so many clubs have to move it would break up the Coast League."

Jim Mulvaney, president of the San Diego club, took a different tack, saying he was hopeful realignment can be made by '58. He reported he had been in contact with parties interested in Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, Phoenix and Salt Lake City.

O'Connor said the two major teams, "plan to blanket this Northern California area with television and excursions to their ball parks. It will be made as difficult as possible for anybody else to operate since they would take attendance and revenue into San Francisco and Los Angeles and away from the other towns."

Basketball Rules Meetings Slated

High school basketball rules meetings will be held throughout the state during November, the Nebraska School Acitivities Association said Thursday.

The meeting for Omaha schools will be held Nov. 4 at Thomas Jefferson High School in Council Bluffs.

On Nov. 18 meetings are scheduled for the senior high at McCook; Lincoln High School auditorium and Wayne on the College campus.

Duck Hunting Continues Good

Duck hunting continues good in Nebraska, reports to the State Game Commission indicated Thursday.

From the North Platte area, conservation officer Sam Grasmick reported hunters were bagging blue winged teal, gadwall and some pintail, but very few mallards and no geese. Hunting pressure was light but hunting remained good.

In northwest Nebraska, hunting was reported "pretty fair" with most hunters pond-hopping in quest of the fowl. Quite a few mallards were reported, but mostly teal.

In the Bassett area also, duck hunting continued good with hunters taking mired bags, mostly teal and pintails.

Giles Praises Brave Pilot Haney

NEW YORK (INS) — Warren Giles, President of the National League, rushed into the Braves' dressing room after the final World Series game Thursday to congratulate Manager Fred Haney.

"You and your club did a grand job," chortled Giles, "this is the greatest thing that ever happened to the National League."

Will Harridge, President of the American League, congratulating Yankee Manager Casey Stengel, declared:

"Casey, you did a swell job, as always, and we're still proud of you and the Yanks."

Yankee Crying Towels

NEW YORK (AP)—Minutes after the Milwaukee Braves scored four runs in the third inning of the final World Series game with the New York Yankees, concessionaires began hawking "Yankee crying towels" to the customers.

They were made of cloth and carried such printed legends as "it shouldn't happen to us," and "wait till next year." They did a brisk business at 50 cents each.

Charming Barbara Wins In A Romp

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP)—Charming Barbara made it look easy at Roosevelt Raceway Thursday night in winning the $30,000 Dream Trot, an invitational event for eight top 3-year-old trotters. She scored by a length and a quarter over Time Me in 2:04 1-5.

The fleet brown filly, owned by John Froelich's Farmstead Acres Farm, Brookville, N.Y., and reined by Billy Haughton, posted her 14th win of the season in 22 starts and her 1957 earnings to $54,667.

Charming Barbara returned $4.20 as favorite and equalled the Roosevelt track record for a 3-year-old filly set by Gratis Hanover last season.

Peru Queen Candidates

The Queen of the 1957 Peru State Homecoming will be one of these coeds, who were selected from six candidates by a vote of the Peru student body. The finalists are (left to right) Fran Larson, senior from Peru; Judi Cole, Nebraska City sophomore and Ruth Linscheid, Peru sophomore. The queen will be revealed at halftime of the Peru-Wayne football game Saturday. (Photo Special To The Star).

NWU, Broncs Own Identical Records

Nebraska Wesleyan University and Hastings College will put identical records on the line when the two Nebraska College Conference foes meet at Hastings in an important loop clash Saturday night.

The two teams share the NCC leadership with Kearney State with two wins and no losses. And each club has dropped a single non-conference tilt to strong out-of-state opponents.

Hastings will be the favorite in this contest with Wesleyan lacking on depth. The Plainsmen hold a slight edge in the 42-game rivalry between the two schools. Wesleyan owns 20 wins against 16 losses, with six games ending in ties.

In other NCC contests Saturday, Peru State will be a heavy favorite to whip Wayne in the Bobcats' Homecoming. Chadron will play at Midland.

Sophomore quarterback Larry Roth and freshman signal-caller Stan Byers will have to shoulder the task of directing the Doane offense as the Tigers take on NCC behemoth Kearney.

Doane's number one quarterback, Mike Lehl, suffered a broken ankle last week and is lost for the season. So the task of running the Tiger club falls upon the two youngsters as Doane attempts to end Kearney's 14-game winning string.

In other state college games this week, Fairbury JC plays at Norfolk JC and McCook JC is at Dodge City JC tonight while Scottsbluff JC meets Otero JC Saturday night.

Also on Saturday's slate are Concordia at Huron, S.D., Carthage, Mo., at Dana and Eastern New Mexico at Omaha University.

Logart To Meet Miceli In 10-Rounder

DETROIT (AP)—Isaac Logart meets Joe Miceli tonight in a 10-round welterweight match that will be televised and broadcast from Detroit's Olympia Stadium.

The bout (NBC, 8 p.m. CST) matches Logart, the boxer, against Miceli, a wild-swinging left hooker who is a 2-1 underdog. Cuban Logart is risking his chances for an early shot at the vacant welterweight title by taking on the always-dangerous Miceli.

Ranked second in the division, Logart is being considered for a match against Boston's Tony DeMarco and is figured in the plans for an elimination contest to find a successor to Carmen Basilio, who recently dethroned middleweight champion Ray Robinson.

"Miceli is a rough, strong fighter," said Logart. "I know he's dangerous and I'm not taking this fight for granted."

North-Prep Battle Heads Gridiron Slate

One big game in Omaha tops this week's somewhat slim football schedule. Nine other games between Class A foes help to offset the lack of games between ranking powers.

In Omaha, the big game is the Creighton Prep-North battle tonight. Prep is ranked second, and North No. 4, in this week's Star ratings, with North the strongest foe yet remaining on the schedule of Omaha South, the No. 1 team in the state.

South goes against Council Bluffs Thomas Jefferson, Omaha Central takes on weak Omaha Tech, and Council Bluffs Abraham Lincoln is at Benson in other inter-city games.

Only one game is scheduled for Lincoln tonight, an inter-conference affair with Seward at Lincoln Southeast. Lincoln High travels to rated Scottsbluff and Lincoln Northeast is at Hastings in Class A games.

Other Class A tilts pit McCook at North Platte, Beatrice at Nebraska City, Falls City at Plattsmouth, Omaha Westside at Fremont, Gering at Sidney, and unbeaten, unscored-upon Lexington at Kearney.

Top Class B games are Aurora at York, Wahoo at Blair, Cozad at Gothenburg, and Broken Bow at Holdrege, while in Class C, Cambridge is at Alma in a clash between two rated unbeatens, Sutton is at Deshler, and Oskosh at Minatare.

Some good inter-conference affairs include Columbus St. Bonaventure at David City St. Mary's, Crete at Fairbury, and Tekamah at Valley.

Omaha Cards Announce Trade With Houston

OMAHA (AP)—The Omaha Cardinals Thursday announced a trade with Houston of the Texas League involving five players.

The Cardinals gave up outfielder Glen Gorbous and pitcher Glen Czekaj.

McClain, a righthander, won 11 and lost 3 for Columbus before moving up to Houston last season, where he had a 3-3 record.

Theim, a lefthander, was with Columbus of the Class A Sally League. He won 15 and lost 12.

Czeckaj played for Columbus and for Knoxville, Tenn., in 1957. He hit 16 homers and had a .241 batting average.

Bosox Sell Minarcin

BOSTON, (AP)—The Boston Red Sox Thursday sold relief pitcher Rudy Minarcin to Havana of the International League, the same club from which the Sox purchased him Sept. 8, 1956.

NSAA Announces Opening Dates

The Nebraska School Activities Association announced basketball and football opening dates for the 1958-59 school year.

The Association set the opening date of football practice for Aug. 25 with the first game to be Sept. 12.

In football schools basketball practice is to start Nov. 1 with the first game on Dec. 2.

The state basketball tournament was scheduled for March 12, 13 and 14.

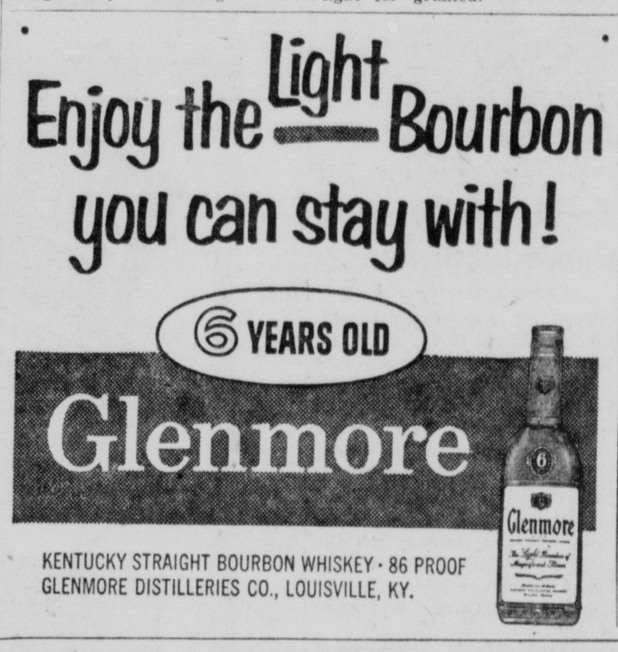

Hickman Gets Checkup

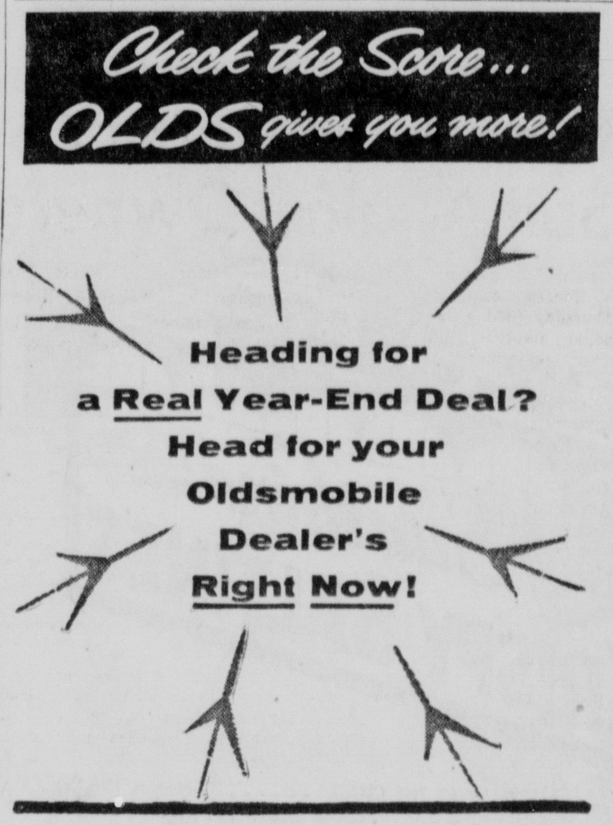

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Herman Hickman, radio commentator and football writer, entered Grace-New Haven Community Hospital after broadcasting his two regular shows from New York (CBS).

A "check-up" was ordered for the former Yale football coach and Tennessee star by Dr. Robert White, his wife reported today. The Hickmans live in nearby Woodbridge.

Mrs. Hickman said she had no idea how long her husband will remain at the hospital.

DU PONT ZEREX® ANTI-FREEZE

PERMANENT TYPE

WITH MR-8 KEEPS YOU GUARANTEED* SAFE

AGAINST FREEZE-UPS, RUST-UPS ...AND IT WON'T ROT HOSE

HOW MR-8 PROTECTS YOUR CAR

Here's the complete all-around cooling system protection you get with "Zerex," the only permanent type anti-freeze containing MR-8, Du Pont's special chemical rust inhibitor.

1. Works in all waters
Du Pont "Zerex" anti-freeze with MR-8 is compatible with all types of water. Even in hard water the inhibitor stays in perfect solution. Hard water makes the inhibitors used in many anti-freezes precipitate out, materially reducing their protective qualities.

2. Will not rot rubber hose
"Zerex" with MR-8 will not rot or soften rubber hose because it contains no oil. Oil is extremely harmful to some radiator hose, softening or rotting it sometimes in one season. Then the hose may collapse or burst, causing overheating and engine damage.

3. Neutralizes all acids
The seven different metals used in modern cooling systems can become corroded when a permanent anti-freeze solution turns acid. However, "Zerex" with MR-8 has extra "reserve alkalinity" that gives winter-long protection from the corrosive action of cooling system acids.

4. Keeps rust in suspension
"Zerex" with MR-8 keeps the cooling systems of today's complex engines clean and free-flowing. Because "Zerex" contains no oil, it does not cause rust to stick to cooling system surfaces and clog radiator passages, which can cause overheating and engine damage.

So don't take chances this winter. See your dealer now and get the complete winter-long protection only "Zerex" with MR-8 gives. It's the premium, permanent type anti-freeze made and guaranteed by Du Pont . . . your best assurance of quality and satisfaction.

DU PONT GUARANTEE

"Zerex"® anti-freeze will protect the cooling system of your car from freezing, rust or corrosion for one full winter—and will not leak out—if used in a properly operating, watertight cooling system and if used according to Du Pont directions printed on the "Zerex" container.

Du Pont guarantees too, that "Zerex" will not boil away and can be used with either high- or low-opening thermostats, at high or low altitudes in extreme driving or weather conditions. "Zerex" will not harm rubber hoses, gaskets, pump packing, metal parts of the cooling system or car finish. "Zerex" mixes perfectly with water, flows freely and transfers heat efficiently.

Nebraskans Drank 726,093 Barrels Beer, Ale In '56

NEW YORK (AP) — Nebraskans consumed 726,093 barrels of beer and ale last year, a rate of 15.9 gallons per person, the United States Brewers Foundation reported.

The national per capita consumption was 15.7 gallons. Wisconsin led the nation at a rate of 25.5 gallons per resident.

Taxes on beer and ale in Nebraska amounted to $10,743,000 in 1956, the foundation said, including $9,919,000 in federal taxes and $824,000 in state collections.

Nebraska's three breweries rolled a record 1,136,862 barrels of beer and ale off their production lines last year, 6,729 barrels more than the previous high in 1955, to rank 18th among the nation's leading beer production states, the foundation said.

Eggs Tossed At Ag Chief Benson Before South Dakota Address

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP)—Eggs were thrown at Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson Thursday as he was introduced for an address at the South Dakota Mechanical Corn Picking Contest near here.

Four or five eggs were thrown before police filtered through the audience in an effort to locate the demonstrators. One egg landed at the feet of Gov. Joe Foss, who had just introduced Benson. Another splattered over a contest scoreboard at the rear of the platform.

Maynard Ranky, 21-year-old Volga, S.D., farmer told Patrolman Maynard Gudahl he and four other farmers from the Volga and Arlington area threw the eggs.

"We've written to Benson and didn't get any answers," Ranky told the patrolman. The men were not held.

Probe Launched

Three agents of the South Dakota Attorney General's Office launched an investigation into the eggthrowing and said they would consult with Gov. Foss as to what action might be taken.

Foss said he definitely would push prosecution of the men. He added, "anyone who would throw that (an egg) would as soon throw a rock or a knife."

"In every group," the governor said, "there is a small minority of odd balls. The people here are okay."

Benson made no comment on the incident.

Feeling against the secretary was evidenced before he mounted the platform. Benson turned to photographers who had been covering the corn picking and asked, "is the contest over yet?"

'We'll Get You'

"Not for two years, Buddy," someone shouted from the crowd. "We'll get you then."

No applause was heard during Benson's speech, in which he said broader markets and reduced surpluses are the answer to increased farm income. He said fixed price supports work against both objectives.

Benson also called for removal of corn acreage allotments and warned that excessive hog production can depress prices.

Hard to Run Out

At a news conference earlier Thursday, Benson said he has several times considered retiring "but it is hard to run out on the President in trying times such as these."

The secretary shrugged off personal attacks on himself, saying he never has worried about tenure. Many predicted he would be the first to leave the cabinet but no cabinet member has seniority on him now, Benson added.

In his talk, Benson emphasized that price supports, "used in a manner that fits today's conditions," have an important function in agriculture. Properly used, he said, they can provide much needed stability to agriculture.

Tractor Kills Ayr Farmer

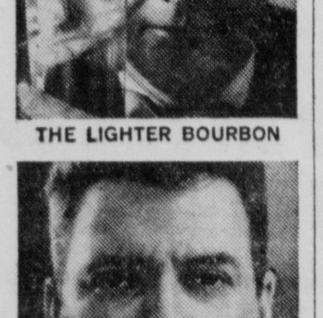

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP) — Alfred Fricke, 63, of Ayre, prominent Adams County farmer, died in a Hastings hospital Thursday of injuries suffered a few hours earlier in a tractor accident at his farm.

Fricke was reported to have been operating a tractor in covering a silo with dirt when the machine overturned backward, pinning him beneath it.

He was a member of the Adams County Noxious Weed District, a former member of the School Board, a director of the Adams Count Fair Board and a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Hastings.

Fricke and his wife were honored by the Hastings Chamber of Commerce last June as the Adams County "farm family of the month."

Survivors include his widow, and sons, William of Chicago, James of Sacramento, Calif., and Merwin of Ayre.

Flu-Like Illness Strikes Omaha Schools

1,200 Absentees Reported

OMAHA (AP)—Dr. Edwin Lyman, Omaha-Douglas County health director, said Thursday that Asian flu may have reached Omaha. Its first victims apparently were high school students.

School officials said a flu-like illness struck the high schools with suddenness this week. Nearly 1,200 of the 10,000 students in the five public high schools were absent Thursday, principally because of the flu.

Another 200 students at Monroe Junior High School were ill.

"I wouldn't be surprised if some of the illness is Asian flu," said Dr. Lyman. "Of course, some, have just plain old colds."

There still had been no definite diagnosis of Asian flu made by the University of Nebraska College of Medicine, which is doing all testing for the city. However, the tests run two or three weeks behind the sickness.

The elementary schools reported only a little more absenteeism than usual, associate Supt. Fred Hill said.

Forty-five teachers were out of the public schools Thursday, about five-times normal.

No Outbreak Here

As outbreaks of possible Asian flu dotted Nebraska Thursday, Lincolnites seemed to have avoided the germ.

Dr. George Underwood, director of the Lincoln-Lancaster Health Department, said there were "no proven cases" of Asian flu yet.

He said the city is having the usual run of mild influenza and colds, but no outbreaks suggestive of an epidemic.

The State Health Department reported no Asian flu cases as far as the state laboratory is concerned.

Contracts For New Formfit Plant Signed

CHICAGO (AP) — The Formfit Co. Thursday signed contracts for a $200,000 plant at Beatrice, Neb.

Edwin P. Hesser, a Formfit president, said the new plant to be built by the Beatrice Development Corp. will provide jobs for more than triple the present workers in a temporary plant.

The 21,000 square foot air condition plant is scheduled for completion in March.

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP)—Rep. A. L. Miller (R-Neb) Thursday told a group of some 700 high school students from North Platte and Hershey he believes the draft will be discontinued in the near future.

Missouri Reservoirs Storage 1/4 Over '56

OMAHA (AP) — The four operating reservoirs on the Missouri River main stem system showed a 25 per cent gain in storage over a year ago, the Missouri River Reservoir Control center reported Thursday.

The control center's totals showed 19,976,000 acre-feet of water in storage at the end of September, a gain of 5,524,000 acre-feet over the storage of a year ago.

This bit increase reflects not only a more favorable precipitation pattern since early last spring "but also the careful regulation of reservoir releases under the guidance of the Coordinating Committee for Missouri River Main Reservoir Operation," the control center said.

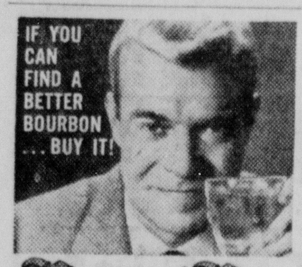

Because of the improved precipitation it was necessary to withdraw only 688,000 acre-feet of water from the reservoir system in September, compared with a drawdown of 1,264,000 acre-feet in September last year. Power generation at the four dams was substantially above last year's levels in September and the releases also provided for navigation, water supply and steam sanitation.

The center said releases of water will be cut down to winter levels in late October. Meanwhile, most of the storage water released will be taken from Fort Randall Reservoir, which will be lowered about 13½ feet to make storage capacity available for the capture of winter power releases from Garrison and Fort Peck dams upstream. A slight drawdown will be accomplished at Gavins Point, lowermost of the four dams, for the same reason.

Early Day Lime Kiln Site Open To Public Sunday

Lincoln Star Special

FAIRBURY, Neb. — Plans are being made to open the John Knobel Homestead which is located 10 miles southeast of Fairbury Sunday. This is a historical site of early day lime kiln activity when Peter Knobel built the lime kiln which was in operation from 1881 to 1884. It is now owned by his grandson, John Knobel of Fairbury, who is restoring his grandfather's old lime kiln and reconstructing the old homestead buildings.

Signs have been erected which will mark out the locations of various sites such as the lime kiln and kiln holes where lime was burned, the site of an Indian burial, the hole on Coal Creek that housed Indian traders and trappers and an old rock bridge, etc. Most of these places may be seen from the road which has been built through the homestead.

Mr. Knobel is vice president of the Jefferson County Historical Society, but his historic project and private museum are not connected with the Society nor the Jefferson County Museum at Fairbury.

The public is welcome to hold picnics on the grounds during the day. Location of the Homestead is seven miles south of Fairbury on Highway 15 and three miles east.

Peru Homecoming Features College's 90th Anniversary

PERU, Neb. — Homecoming at Peru State College next Saturday will bring with it more than the usual nostalgia, since a historical theme, "Around the Campus in 90 Years," has been selected.

Commemorating the 90 years of service to the state and the nation by Nebraska's first college, the theme will be carried out in the homecoming displays constructed by campus organizations. George Sterner and Floyd Pohlman, the mayors of Nebraska City and Auburn, and Mrs. C. W. Pollard of Peru have been invited to judge the crepe paper and chicken wire creations.

Beginning with a 9 a.m. coffee hour for alumni and friends on the main quadrangle, the feature attraction will be the 2 p.m. football clash between the Peru State Bobcats and Wayne State Wildcats in the Oak Bowl. Former varsity letter winners at Peru State will eat pre-game lunch with the football squad at the 11 a.m. "P" luncheon.

During halftime of the grid game, the identity of the homecoming queen will be revealed. The candidates, elected from the six candidates by student balloting, include: Miss Judi Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Cole of Nebraska City; Miss Fran Larson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Larson, Peru, and Miss Ruth Linscheid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Linscheid, Peru.

Stanton Delaplane's POSTCARD

There is enough fresh breeze this morning that I must close the window. Summer is over.

We are making preparations for a birthday. A moppet of two dedicted years of destruction. A lively young man bent on taking the world apart.

"Did you have anything in mind," said the saleslady.

"A child's bottle of Miltown?" I said hopefully.

"We try to find something constructive," she said. "A child needs the psychological reassurance of DOING something. Let us think. What would that be?

"A Boy Scout axe and five minutes alone with the hi-fi set," I said gloomily. "This child's idea of construction is to set off an atom bomb under the cat. I would not wish to bruise a tender psyche," I said. "Yet there is a matter of self-preservation."

☆ ☆ ☆

Well, we have many constructive toys for children these days.

The cowboy outfit of my constructive youth has been changed considerably.

I remember that my cowboy outfit was a cap pistol and a beaded shirt.

There was a cowboy hat to go with it. Also an Indian war bonnet.

When yoh were a cowboy, you wore the cowboy hat and kept your shirt tucked in. When you wanted to be an Indian, you simply put the on feathers and pulled your shirt out so it hung outside.

The lady lifted two realistic .45s in tooled holsters. They were so real if she had pointed them at me I would have handed over my wallet.

"Exact replicas of the guns worn by Wyatt Earp on Channel 4," she said. "Or is it 5? They are balanced so that the child can do the 'Montana roll.' "

She spun the guns end over end to demonstrate.

"Suppose this child gets loose and points these over the counter at the corner piggy? They might tuck me away in the slammer as an accomplice."

"He would hardly be tall enough to reach the wicket. Ha, ha.'

"This child climbs on chairs. Ha, ha. What else?'

☆ ☆ ☆

"Here," said the lady, "we have a new educational toy called 'Custer's Last Stand. It contains 80 action figures of soldiers and Indians. Made of unbreakable plastic.

"With the kit," she said, "goes a 16-page historical booklet. Outlining the battle. There is also a large laydown map of the battlefield so that the action can be reconstructed."

"You mean we might win at last."

"If Reno advances and Custer does not split his command in the face of a superior force."

☆ ☆ ☆

"Does he like books?" said the lady. "Some children take naturally to books."

"This child takes naturally to books. He takes them and just naturally pulls them to pieces. He has done more to my 'Complete Works of Shakespeare' than the critics of the centuries."

"We have the 'Book of Knowledge' — the children's encyclopedia. Suppose your child says: 'Can fish hear, Daddy?"

"I would bust him in his little chops. No child is going to double-talk me."

"In this book you find the answer. It is a 20-volume mine of information with 7600 delightful pages of pictures and inspiring articles."

"Do you have a cap pistol?" I said. "And a shirt you can tuck in or pull out."

"I suppose so. What size?"

"About my size," I said. "So we can play together."

STOCK DROP BIGGEST IN TWO YEARS

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market took its steepest dive in two years Thursday on the heaviest volume of the year. Prices sank to their lowest on average since April 1955.

Key stocks were hammered down from 1 to 9 points in vigorous selling and on a broad front. All major divisions suffered and more individual issues were traded than on any previous day of 1957.

Based on the fall in the average there was an estimated drop of about five billion dollars in the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

The break took place on the second anniversary of the third "Blue Monday" following President Eisenhower's heart attack. That was Oct. 10, 1955.

No single piece of bad news accompanied the slump but rather an accumulation of discouraging notes from various fields, brokers said. The nation's biggest railroad, the Pennsylvania, furloughed some 4,000 workers, citing low traffic. Other layoffs and cutbacks, the high inventories in the oil industry and continued ominous conditions in the Middle East were cited. There was disappointment about failure to increase defense spending in view of heighted fear of Russia; and a spreading conviction among investors that the hoped-for post-Labor Day advance by business was just not coming off, analysts remarked.

A sharp break in earnings by Illinois Central was a factor in a decline by leading rails to their lowest point on average since September 1954.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell $4.00 to $159.70, with the industrials down $6.00, the rails down $4.30 and the utilities down 70 cents—putting all components down to new 1957 lows.

The Dow-Jones industrial average fell 9.69 to 441.71 Standard & Poor's 500-stock index was down 1.03 to 40.96.

There were 993 declines and 90 advances; 424 new lows for the year and only 2 new highs.

Prices also slumped on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 1,040,000 shares compared with 660,000 Wednesday.

REV. DAVIS IS BAPTIST EXECUTIVE

. . . Campus Life Post

The Rev. Robert E. Davis, student pastor for Baptists and Disciples of Christ at the University of Nebraska for the past three years, has been named western regional executive of the Department of Campus Christian Life of the Board of Education of the American Baptist Convention.

His new appointment is effective Jan. 1.

The Rev. Mr. Davis will supervise American Baptist campus

REV. ROBERT DAVIS

work on college and university campuses from the Mississippi River to the West Coast.

He came to Lincoln in August, 1954, from Fredonia, N.Y., where he served as Protestant chaplain at the State University of New York's Teachers College.

Was Student Pastor

Prior to 1950, he was student pastor to Baptist students at both Amherst College and University of Massachusetts and also pastor of the First Baptist Church at Amherst.

In Lincoln, the Rev. Mr. Davis has been active in community affairs. He was speaker at the Pinewood Bowl Easter Sunrise services in 1955 and again 1957. This past summer, he was visiting professor of philosophy at Nebraska Wesleyan University.

While at the University of Nebraska, he has done further study toward a doctorate degree, which he plans to receive at the close of the present semester.

His two children, Robert Evan, Jr., 10, and Marcia Louise, 5, are both attending Prescott School. The Davises have made their home at 1204 South 26th.

Price Supports On Barley, Oats And Rye Increase

Slight increases in the 1957 price support rates on barley, oats and rye in Nebraska were announced by Wilfred R. Nelson, chairman of the Nebraska Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) state committee.

The loan and purchase agreement rates on oats and barley have been increased by one cent per bushel, and the rate on rye by three cents per bushel, he said.

The adjustments result from the recent announcement that prices on "non-compliance" corn produced in the commercial corn area will be supported at a national average of $1.10 per bushel. Under special provisions in the law for 1957, this step caused increases in the support rates for the three "subject commodities" as well.

Because a number of barley, oats and rye loans already have been made at the lower rate, the state ASC office has decided the county offices should continue to make loans at the lower rates, with necessary adjustments being made at the time of settlement.

First Barber

KITCHENER, Ont. (AP)—Jack Ross, who recently came here from Toronto, added something new to the Kitchener-Waterloo chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America. He's the first barber ever to join the 10-year-old harmony wailers.

Sen. Anderson Accuses Budget Bureau Of Impeding Missile Development

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — Sen. Clinton Anderson (D-NM) Thursday accused the Budget Bureau of impeding development of a guided missile program, and said President Eisenhower was warned two years ago that Russia was far ahead of the U.S. in developing missiles.

Anderson, vice chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, said the warning was given, and solutions suggested, in a June 30, 1955, letter to Eisenhower from Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) and Anderson, then chairman of the joint committee. The letter never has been made public before.

Anderson said "the primary cause of our difficulties is that, even though the President might say that missiles had a top priority in reality the Bureau of the Budget had the top priority."

The senator told a Rotary Club meeting that success of the Russian satellite has weakened NATO, and indicates U.S. fighter planes and Distant Early Warning lines may be useless.

He accused the Budget Bureau of limiting development of U.S. missiles, and said intraservice rivalry was the second stumbling block to the development of the American missile program.

Methods to eliminate these handicaps, plus information the Russians were far ahead of this country, were relayed to the President in the secret 1955 letter, Anderson said.

At the time, Anderson said, "the joint committee had been placed in possession of information indicating that the Russians had an 800-mile weapon and were preparing to fire a 1,500-mile weapon. At that time, this country had nothing comparable to that."

In 1955, Anderson said, the United States was still undecided as to whether to concentrate on building nuclear propelled or chemically powered rockets.

$9 Million

At the request of the Atomic Energy Commission, Anderson said Congress authorized spending an additional $9,100,000 for fiscal 1957 to bring the total for development of a nuclear powered missile to 25 million dollars. The money was never utilized "because the Bureau of the Budget had held it up," he said.

The Anderson-Jackson letter to Eisenhower urged a separate budget for development of the Intercontinental Ballistics Missile so the project would not be caught in any congressional fund slashing, Anderson said. The same recommendation urged establishment of a strong, central authority over the missile program, following the success of the interservice project which built the Nautilus, first atomic submarine.

"That recommendation, of course, was not adopted and the interservice rivalries were allowed to continue," Anderson said. "Millions upon millions of dollars were spent on weapons that would never be fired but every manufacturer wanted a part of the show and a chance to pick up the experience as well as the payroll that went along with testing work."

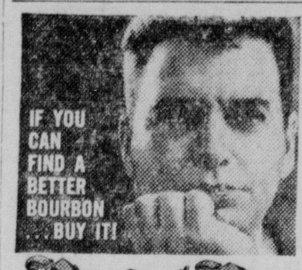

Missile development is only one of the three major defense efforts, Anderson said. The other two projects are the building of fighter planes and of Distant Early Warning systems. Neither would be very effective against missiles, he said.

In the light of the Russian satellite success, he said, the "hundreds of millions of dollars we have spent on DEW line becomes a little less attractive than the glamor of the job has indicated."

Nautilus Leaves

LE HAVRE, France (AP)—The U.S. Navy's atomic sub Nautilus, after visiting here since last Saturday, put to sea and headed west, apparently for the United States.
